An Essay Concerning Human Understanding; with Thoughts on the Conduct of the Understanding John Locke, 1801 The CBM Physics Book Bengt Friman, Claudia Höhne, Jörn Knoll, Stefan Leupold, Jorgen Randrup, Ralf Rapp, Peter Senger, 2011-03-10 This exhaustive survey is the result of a four year effort by many leading researchers in the field to produce both a readable introduction and a yardstick for the many upcoming experiments using heavy ion collisions to examine the properties of nuclear matter The book falls naturally into five large parts first examining the bulk properties of strongly interacting matter including its equation of state and phase structure Part II discusses elementary hadronic excitations of nuclear matter Part III addresses the concepts and models regarding the space time dynamics of nuclear collision experiments Part IV collects the observables from past and current high energy heavy ion facilities in the context of the theoretical predictions specific to compressed baryonic matter Part V finally gives a brief description of the experimental concepts The book explicitly addresses everyone working or planning to enter the field of high energy nuclear physics

The Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the Holocaust Johannes Morsink, 2019-02-08 Johannes Morsink argues that the 1948 UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the human rights movement today are direct descendants of revulsion to the Holocaust and the desire to never let it happen again Much recent scholarship about human rights has severed this link between the Holocaust the Universal Declaration and contemporary human rights activism in favor of seeing the 1970s as the era of genesis Morsink forcefully presents his case that the Universal Declaration was indeed a meaningful though underappreciated document for the human rights movement and that the declaration and its significance cannot be divorced from the Holocaust He reexamines this linkage through the working papers of the commission that drafted the declaration as well as other primary sources This work seeks to reset scholarly understandings of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the foundations of the contemporary human rights movement

Leibniz and the Environment Pauline Phemister, 2016-03-31 The work of seventeenth century polymath Gottfried Wilhelm Leibniz has proved inspirational to philosophers and scientists alike In this thought provoking book Pauline Phemister explores the ecological potential of Leibniz's dynamic pluralist panpsychist metaphysical system She argues that Leibniz's philosophy has a renewed relevance in the twenty first century particularly in relation to the environmental change and crises that threaten human and non human life on earth Drawing on Leibniz's theory of soul like interconnected metaphysical entities he termed monads Phemister explains how an individual's true good is inextricably linked to the good of all Phemister also finds in Leibniz's works the rudiments of a theory of empathy and strategies for strengthening human feelings of compassion towards all living things Leibniz and the Environment is essential reading for historians of philosophy and environmental philosophers and will also be of interest to anyone seeking a metaphysical perspective from which to pursue environmental action and policy

Human Rights and the Body Annabelle Mooney, 2016-05-13 Human Rights and the Body is a response to the crisis in human rights to the very real concern that without a secure foundation for the concept of human rights their very existence is threatened While there has been consideration of the discourses of human rights and the way in which the body is written upon research in linguistics has not yet been fully brought to bear on either human rights or the body Drawing on legal concepts and aspects of the law of human rights Mooney aims to provide a universally defensible set of human rights and a foundation or rather a frame for them She argues that the proper frames for human rights are firstly the human body seen as an index reliant on the natural world secondly the globe and finally language These three frames generate rights to food water sleep and shelter environmental protection and a right against dehumanization This book is essential reading for researchers and graduate students in the fields of human rights and semiotics of law
