COVID-19 Learning Losses UNESCO,United Nations Children's Fund,World Bank (the),2021-12-08 Since the beginning of the pandemic efforts have been made to monitor both school closures and re opening and the measures put in place to ensure continuity of learning These include the Survey of Ministries of Education on National Responses to COVID 19 jointly supported by UNESCO UNICEF and the World Bank However to date no systematic evidence has been available on how students learning is being affected by the disruptions caused by the pandemic or on the impact of education response measures initiated by governments This report contributes to filling this evidence gap and includes a series of simulations of potential learning losses due to COVID 19 and exploration of their longer term implications The analysis is based on the Enabling learning for all framework which outlines access engagement and enabling environment as the three crucial enablers for learning while the simulation assumptions are informed by the evidence on school closures and governments education related responses collected through the joint survey

Uncommon Sense Timm A. Mackley, 1999-10-15

Uncommon Sense Core Knowledge in the Classroom author Timm Mackley shares his experiences from implementing the Core Knowledge Sequence in a small town in southeastern Ohio His scenarios offer a real understanding of why Core Knowledge has been such a wonderful experience for whole communities of learners As Mackley describes the reasons for using the Core Knowledge Sequence he substantiates those reasons with the authentic experiences of administrators teachers parents and students The Core Knowledge Sequence based on the work of E D Hirsch Jr is a curriculum that describes what students should know and prescribes specific topics for instruction in kindergarten through 8th grade What students learn throughout this sequence gives them a common base for additional learning The Core Knowledge Sequence clearly answers the questions asked of teachers and administrators everywhere What s being taught The answer is in the systematic syllabus of content The Core Knowledge Sequence includes topics and subtopics in language arts world history American history geography visual arts music mathematics and science It specifies content for only half the school curriculum The remaining half is preserved for topics chosen by the teacher or the local schools and districts Mackley offers suggestions on how to implement the Core Knowledge Sequence in your school or district as well as information on how to network and find supplementary resources key to your school reform effort Note This product listing is for the Adobe Acrobat PDF version of the book
