Funk,2017-03-23 Winner of the 2016 ESSE Junior Scholar Book Award in Literatures in the English Language The Literature of Reconstruction argues for the term and concept of postmillennial reconstruction to fill the gap left by the decline of postmodernism and deconstruction as useful cultural and literary categories Wolfgang Funk shows how this notion emerges from the theoretical and philosophical development that led to the demise of postmodernism by relating it to the idea of authenticity immediate experience that eludes direct representation In addition he provides a clear formal framework with which to identify and classify the features of reconstructive literature by updating the narratological category of metafiction originally established in the 1980s Based on Werner Wolf s observation of a metareferential turn in contemporary arts and media he illustrates how the specific use of metareference results in a renegotiation of the specific patterns of literary communication and claims that this renegotiation can be profitably described with the concept of reconstruction To substantiate this claim in the second half of the book Funk discusses narrative texts that illustrate this transition from postmodern deconstruction to postmillennial reconstruction The analyses take in distinguished and prize winning writers such as Dave Eggers Julian Barnes Jennifer Egan and Jasper Fforde The broad scope of authors featuring writers from the US as well as the UK underlines the fact that the reconstructive tendencies and strategies Funk diagnoses are of universal significance for the intellectual and cultural self image of the global North Encountering Enchantment Susan Fichtelberg, 2015-09-29 The most current and complete guide to a favorite teen genre this book maps current releases along with perennial favorites describing and categorizing fantasy paranormal and science fiction titles published since 2006 Speculative fiction continues to be of consuming interest to teens so if you work with that age group keeping up with the explosion of new titles in this category is critical Likewise understanding the many genres and subgenres into which these titles fall wizard fantasy alternate worlds fantasy mystery dystopian fiction science fantasy and more is also key if you want to motivate young readers and direct them to books they'll enjoy Written to help you master a complex array of genres and titles this guide includes more than 1 500 books most published since 2006 organizing them by genre subgenre and theme Subgenres growing in popularity such as steampunk are highlighted to keep you current with the latest trends The guide will serve three audiences Of course you can turn to it as you help your teenage patrons select the books and genres that will interest them most Teen readers whether devoted fans or newcomers can use it themselves to find titles and subgenres they might like In addition the guide will help teachers and parents match students with the right books Tomes of Terror Mark Leslie, 2014-09-10 It's been said that books have a life of their own but there's more than literature lurking in the cobwebbed recesses of dusty bookstores and libraries across Canada Read about some of the most celebrated and eerie bookish haunts and try to brush off that feeling of someone watching from just over your shoulder Thursday Next in First Among Sequels Jasper Fforde, 2008 Fourteen years after the 1988 SuperHoop Thursday finds herself entangled in cases involving the murders of Sherlock Holmes and Miss Marple before receiving a death threat of her own Reflective Reading and the Power of Narrative Karyn Sproles, 2018-07-11 Reflective Reading and the Power of Narrative Producing the Reader is an interdisciplinary exploration into the profound power of narratives to create and recreate how we imagine ourselves It posits that the process of producing a text also produces the reader Written from the perspective of a psychoanalytic feminist Sproles considers a wide array of examples from literature popular culture and her own experiences to illustrate what she calls reflective reading a metacognitive reading practice that recognizes the workings of the unconscious to push the reader toward a potentially transformational engagement with narrative This may manifest as epiphany recovery from loss or resolution of repressed trauma Each chapter draws on examples of characters and authors who model a reflective reading process from Jane Austen and Virginia Woolf to Johnny Cash and Alison Bechdel By reclaiming the role of the unconscious Karyn Sproles reinvigorates the theoretical work begun by reader response criticism and develops a deep understanding of identification and transference as an integral part of the reading process For students and researchers of cultural studies
