Prebensen, Joseph S Chen, Muzaffer Uysal, 2018-06-18 Research delivers a multitude of approaches to value creation represented here as a set of definitions perspectives and interpretations of how tourists as customers create value alone and with others Now updated throughout Creating Experience Value in Tourism 2nd Edition provides a clarification of these approaches as well as a practical translation as to how they can work within industry Concluding with a summary of the areas for future research this is a key resource for researchers particularly those interested in experience value and co creation as well as a useful read for students of tourism and related industries

Liberating People, Planet, and Religion Joerg Rieger, Terra Rowe, 2024-05-29 There is growing consensus that life on the planet is in peril if climate change continues at its current pace At stake is not only the future of many species but of humanity itself As an increasing number of ecological economists have emphasized these problems will only be adequately addressed by re examining economic systems from an ecological perspective fundamentally calling into question assumptions of unlimited growth and the maximization of shareholder profit foundational to neoliberal capitalism Religion and ecology scholars have also increasingly emphasized the ways climate change challenges assumed divides between nature and culture religion and labor economy and ecology and calls for critical and constructive engagement with the religion economy and ecology nexus Often though religious engagements with economy and ecology have placed emphasis on individual morality action and agency at the level of consumption patterns or have suggested mere modifications within existing economic paradigms Contributors to this volume call into question the adequacy of this approach in light of the urgency of climate change which is always ever entwined with ongoing patterns of exploitation oppression and colonialism in current economic systems Rather than tweaking a system of exploitation for instance by emphasizing individual consumption or care for human and non human victims these authors articulate important opportunities for religious engagement activism resistance and solidarity around issues of production and labor Recalling that Marx linked agencies and labor of people as well as the other than human world these authors aim to articulate a sense in which liberation of people and the planet are intertwined and can be accomplished only through collaboration for their common good The basic intuition driving this volume is that while Christianity has by and large become the handmaiden of exploitative capitalism and empire it might also reclaim latent theologies and religious practices that call into question the fundamental valuation of labor without recognition or rest of extractive exploitation and a winner take all praxis In the process Christianity might reclaim and reinvest in tenuous historical materializations of transformed ecological and economic relationships while economics might be re informed by a valuation of the shared oikos as well as a just accounting of and remuneration for labor Together they might serve the aim of the flourishing of all people and the planet

Post-Disaster and Post-Conflict Tourism Maximiliano E. Korstanje, Hugues Séraphin, Vanessa G. B. Gowreesunkar, 2020-01-06 Post disaster and post conflict tourism has recently emerged as a prominent topic of research and considers new risks that jeopardize tourism travel to destinations that have recently experienced climate related disasters civil conflicts and other challenges This volume presents a host of innovative strategies that could be adopted by post colonial post conflict and post disaster destinations to encourage travel and tourism in these areas Policymakers are focusing their efforts on identifying and eradicating external and or internal risks in order to protect the tourism industry in their regions in line with a new spirit that is clearly orientated toward mitigating risks This capacity of adaptation suggests two important things that are at the heart of this book On the one hand tourism serves as a resilient mechanism that is helping destinations in their recovery strategy On another hand this raises ethical issues related to tourism consumption
