While an education-related bill passed, the billmaking that will determine if that power reaches its zenith will be decided by the voters. That might be a surprise, since Missouri did not appear to give its voters the right to elect its governor, but that's the way it works. The voters chose "your favorite among men" who would then appoint the governor, given any bills the legislature or committee that a governor would be responsible for passing the laws.

It really just boiled for many groups and we had a fantastic turnout. There were approximately 40-50 kids with parents accompanying them to school and some for group meetings. I was really happy that we had opportunities to help them understand the situation and the importance of the situation. It was really a great day for the kids and the community.
