Perspectives critiques Linda Lê, 2006 Perspectives critiques Nicolas Grimaldi, 2007 Perspectives critiques en communication France Aubin, Julien Rueff, 2016-10-19T00:00:00-04:00 Cette introduction aux perspectives critiques présente un large ventail d'approches théoriques laborieuses en sciences sociales ou en philosophie allant du XVIII^e siècle jusqu'aux développements les plus contemporains. Récemment pédagogique, cet ouvrage contextualise ces constructions conceptuelles de manière accessible, les expose clairement afin d'en faciliter l'appropriation et d'en montrer leur pertinence pour la réalisation de recherches empiriques dans le domaine de la communication, journalisme, propagande, politique, médias, relations publiques, etc. Perspectives critiques Roland Jaccard, André Comte-Sponville, Marcel Conche, Nicolas Grimaldi, Collectif, 2006 Perspectives critiques et analyse territoriale Hélène Bélanger, Dominic Lapointe, 2019-08-21T00:00:00-04:00 Que l'on pense la crise financière de 2008 ou aux projets d'oloducs qui traversent le Canada, force est de constater que les dynamiques du développement du capitalisme contemporain transforment les espaces et les territoires. Celles-ci ont des conséquences directes sur les restructurations économiques et spatiales alimentant les injustices dans nos villes et nos régions. Le présent ouvrage est le fruit d'une réflexion collective sur le renouveau des approches critiques en études urbaines, régionales et territoriales. Il rassemble des contributions théoriques, méthodologiques et empiriques qui traitent différentes échelles des rapports, centre-periphérie et des conditions d'habiter des systèmes de pouvoir et d'exclusion sociale et spatiale du cadre de vie et des mobilisations urbaines, ainsi que des identités périphériques et centrales dans l'appropriation de l'espace. Si les études urbaines et les études régionales et territoriales ont souvent été mises en opposition, elles se différencient par le contraire : des autres, cet ouvrage permet de les aborder ensemble. Sans nier les différences voire les oppositions, il apparaît qu'elles sont toutes deux nécessaires pour explorer les dualités propres à l'analyse critique du capitalisme contemporain. Hélène Bélanger est professeure en études urbaines à l'Université du Québec à Montréal (UQAM) et membre du Collectif de recherche et d'action sur l'habitat. Ses travaux portent sur des thèmes touchant au droit au logement et notamment sur la gentrification, le chez-soi et les effets des interventions urbanistiques sur l'appropriation des environnements résidentiels. Elle participe de nombreuses recherches collaboratives avec les groupes communautaires. Dominic Lapointe est professeur en études touristiques à l'UQAM et détenteur d'un doctorat en développement régional. Ses travaux portent sur les questions de production des espaces touristiques, sur le développement des destinations touristiques non métropolitaines, sur les changements climatiques et le tourisme, sur les théories critiques et le tourisme autochtone. Depuis 2017, il est responsable du Groupe de recherche et d'intervention tourisme, territoire et société. Race, racismes, racialisations : Enjeux conceptuels et méthodologiques, perspectives critiques Milena Doytcheva, Yvan Gastaut, 2022-08-23 partir de questionnements empiriques, méthodologiques et conceptuels portant sur les processus de catégorisation et de construction des catégories ethnoraciales au prisme des rapports d'inégalité et de pouvoir, ce dossier propose

Corporate Innovation Strategies Nacer Gasmi, 2021-03-03 Corporate social responsibility CSR is simply the maximization of a company's value over time undertaken because in the long run social and environmental problems ultimately become financial problems The justification for CSR is therefore associated with representing the nature and role of the company as well as its purpose Companies therefore regard CSR as a strategic investment that is part of a proactive resilient inclusive approach based on the creation of shared value This approach is capable of reducing negative societal impacts of their activities or inducing positive impacts if they sustain a hybrid culture all the while improving their competitive advantage This book presents a theoretical development that analyzes the challenges of CSR strategies based on the creation of shared value Two case studies are presented analyzing the different forms of social innovation strategies capable of inducing this shared value creation Orality, Textuality, and the Towards Africa's Renewal Jeggan C. Senghor, Nana.K. Poku, 2017-11-22 Africa still finds itself in the clutches of poverty and underdevelopment The expected benefits from economic restructuring have not been realized and the debt burden continues to weigh heavily on African economies constraining the possibilities of growth Problems that have existed since the 1960s remain and links with the global economy continue to increase but fall short of requirements Against this background it is not surprising that the vast majority of African states will not meet the Millennium Development Goals The search for political systems that can deliver development have been categorized by cynics as old wine in old bottles with new stickers As the dividends from globalization elude Africa in the 21st century it becomes clear that it is a series of failed states rogue states and even stateless states This volume brings together leading researchers and analysts to examine issues and identify policy options which can lead to renewal in Africa It provides an opportunity to reflect and offers a critical multidisciplinary appraisal of the future challenges facing Africa Anthropologie du sport, perspectives critiques Jacques Ardoino, Jean-Marie Brohm, Association francophone internationale de recherche scientifique en éducation, 1991

Mediterranean World Peter N. Miller, 2015-05-11 Antiquarian lawyer and cat lover Nicolas Fabri de Peiresc 1580-1637 was a prince of the Republic of Letters and the most gifted French intellectual in the generation between Montaigne and Descartes From Peiresc's study in Aix-en-Provence his insatiable curiosity poured forth in thousands of letters that traveled the Mediterranean seeking knowledge of matters mundane and exotic Mining the remarkable 70 000 page archive of this Provençal humanist and polymath Peter N. Miller recovers a lost Mediterranean world of the early seventeenth century that was dominated by the sea the ceaseless activity of merchants customs officials and ships captains at the center of Europe's sprawling maritime networks Peiresc's Mediterranean World reconstructs the web of connections that linked the bustling port city of Marseille to destinations throughout the Western Mediterranean North Africa the Levant and beyond Peter Miller's reanimation of Peiresc the master of the Mediterranean is the best kind of case study It not only makes us appreciate the range and richness of one man's experience and the originality of his thought but also suggests that he had many colleagues in his deepest and most imaginative inquiries Most important it gives us hope that their archives too will be opened up by scholars skillful and imaginative enough to make them speak to us Anthony Grafton New York Review of Books Tristes caresses. Étude sur le soin IVG Eva Kroczyński, 2023-05-03 History as a Kind of Writing Philippe Carrard, 2017-03-07

In academia the traditional role of the humanities is being questioned by the posts postmodernism poststructuralism and postfeminism which means that the project of writing history only grows more complex In History as a Kind of Writing scholar of French literature and culture Philippe Carrard speaks to this complexity by focusing the lens on the current state of French historiography Carrard's work here is expansive examining the conventions historians draw on to produce their texts and casting light on views put forward by literary theorists, theorists of history and historians themselves. Ranging from discussions of lengthy dissertations on 1960s social and economic history to a more contemporary focus on events, actors, memory and culture, the book digs deep into the how of history. How do historians arrange their data into narratives? What strategies do they employ to justify the validity of their descriptions? Are actors given their own voice? Along the way Carrard also readdresses questions fundamental to the field including its necessary membership in the narrative genre, the presumed objectivity of historiographic writing and the place of history as a science distinct from the natural and theoretical sciences.

Digitalization of Society and Socio-political Issues 2 Éric George, 2020-01-13 Digitalization is a long socio-historic process in which all areas of society's activities are reconfigured. In the first volume of Digitalization of Society and Socio-political Issues there is an examination of the transformations linked to the development of digital platforms and social media which affect cultural and communicational industries. The book also analyzes the formation of Big Data, their algorithmic processing and the societal changes which result from them: social monitoring and control in particular. Through diverse critical reflections it equally presents different ways that digital participates in relations of power and domination and contributes to eventual emancipatory practices. Following on the second volume examines the transformations that are linked to digital practices that affect the production, circulation and consumption of information as well as new forms that are taken by social mobilizations. It treats several important issues in the digital era that are more likely to become the subject of public debates among which one can include the renewed relationship between research and digital. Through diverse critical reflections it equally presents different ways that digital participates in relations of power and domination and contributes to eventual emancipatory practices.

Critical Management Studies Christopher Grey, Isabelle Huault, Véronique Perret, Laurent Taskin, 2016-02-22 Critical Management Studies (CMS) is often dated from the publication of an edited volume bearing that name: Alvesson and Willmott 1992. In the two decades that have followed CMS has been remarkably successful in establishing itself not just as a term but as a recognizable tradition or approach. The emerging status of CMS as an overall approach has been both encouraged and marked by a growing range of handbooks, readers and textbooks. Yet the literature is dominated by writings from the UK and Scandinavia in particular and the tendency is to treat this literature as constituting CMS. However, the meaning, practice, constraints and context of CMS vary considerably between different countries, cultures and language communities. This volume surveys fourteen various countries and regions where CMS has acquired some following and seeks to explore the different ways in which CMS is understood and the different contexts within which it operates as well as its possible future development.
