Grounding in English and Arabic News Discourse Esam N. Khalil, 2000-01-01 Grounding in English and Arabic News

Discourse explores the discourse notion of grounding viz the foreground background structure and examines it in the various structures that occur in short news texts A text level approach to grounding and the differentiation between several core concepts relating to the various textual and non textual structures distinguish the book from other approaches in the field A corpus based analysis focuses on sentence initial expressions and examines the grounding signalling function of several markers in both English and Arabic The analysis captures constraints on the occurrence of particular markers and the extensive illustrative examples explain the strategies that writers employ to cope with problems of recasting grounding values in news texts The author also shows how the failure to signal appropriate grounding values is likewise associated with the failure to deliver the appropriate type of text Grounding is a relatively unexplored area of investigation in Arabic text linguistics and the study identifies a series of previously unrecognized language features highlighting the discourse pragmatic function that syntax serves The book will be invaluable to researchers and students of discourse pragmatics contrastive rhetoric and communication It will also be of interest to all those involved in translation and intercultural studies

Grammar from the Human Perspective Marja-Liisa Helasvuo, Lyle Campbell, 2006-10-19 The papers of this volume investigate how grammar codes the subjective viewpoint of human language users that is how grammar reflects human conceptualization Some of the articles deal with spatial relations and locations They discuss how basic attributes of human conceptualization are encoded in the grammatical expression of spatial relations Other articles concern embodiment in language showing how conceptualization is mediated by one's embodied experience of the world and ourselves Finally some of the articles discuss coding of person focusing on the subjectivity of conceptualization and how it is reflected in grammar The articles show that conceptualization reflects the speaker's construal of the situation and furthermore that it is intersubjective because it reflects the speaker's understanding of the relations between the speech act participants The papers deal with Finnish utilizing the rich resources of Finnish grammar to contribute to issues in contemporary linguistics and in particular to Cognitive Grammar

Romance Languages and Linguistic Theory 2006 Danièle Torck, Leo Wetzels, 2009 The annual conference series Going Romance has developed into a major European discussion forum where ideas about language and linguistics and about Romance languages in particular are put in an interactive perspective giving room to both universality and Romance internal variation The current volume contains a selection of the papers that were presented at the 20th Going Romance conference held at the VU University in Amsterdam in December 2006 The papers in the volume deal with current issues in phonology morphology syntax and semantics and range across a variety of Romance languages

Morphology and Language History Claire Bower, Bethwyn Evans, Luisa Miceli, 2008-06-12 This volume aims to make a contribution to codifying the methods and practices linguists use to recover language history focussing predominantly on historical morphology The volume includes studies on a wide range of languages not only Indo European but also Austronesian Sinitic Mon Khmer Basque one Papuan language family as well as a number of Australian families Few collections are as cross linguistic as this reflecting the new challenges which have emerged from the study of languages outside those best known from historical linguistics The contributors illustrate shared methodological and theoretical issues concerning genetic relatedness that is the use of morphological evidence for classification and subgrouping reconstruction and processes of change with a diverse range of data The volume is in honour of Harold Koch who has long combined innovative research on understudied languages with methodological rigour and codification of practices within the discipline

Subordination and Coordination Strategies in North Asian Languages Edward J. Vajda, 2008-11-27 Across North Asia complex sentence formation patterns display an unusually high prevalence of suffixed relational morphemes used to convey subordination Suffixal subordinators occur in a variety of genetic groupings most notably Samoyedic Turkic and Tungusic but also in some of the region's language isolates such as Ket and Ainu No general study has surveyed complex sentences across Northern Eurasia and the Pacific Rim an area noted both for its complicated web of language contact phenomena and its long established genetic divisions The 14 chapters in this volume survey synthetic and analytic methods of subordination and coordination Much of the data reflect original fieldwork and several chapters focus on critically endangered languages Nearly every family or isolate in North Asia is taken into consideration as are all major formal and functional types of complex sentence formation

New Perspectives on Romance Linguistics Chiyo Nishida, Jean-Pierre Y. Montreuil, 2006-08-31 This is the first of two volumes emanating from the Linguistic Symposium on Romance Languages held at the University of Texas at Austin in February 2005 It features the keynote address delivered by Denis Bouchard on exaptation and linguistic explanation as well as seventeen contributions by emerging and internationally recognized scholars of Spanish French Italian as well as Rumanian While the emphasis bears on formal analyses the coverage is remarkably broad as topics range from morphology syntax semantics pragmatics and language acquisition Each article seeks to represent a new perspective on these topics and a variety of frameworks and concepts are exploited distributive morphology entailment theory grammaticalization information structure left periphery polarity lattice spatial individuation thematic hierarchy etc This volume will challenge anyone interested in current issues in theoretical Romance Linguistics

Language History Andrew L. Sihler, 2000 This classroom tested volume aspires to be a brief but technically and factually accurate exposition of linguistic description and history Whether studied as prime subject or as background information it should help students understand the assumptions and reasoning that underlie the contents of their handbooks and etymological dictionaries This book should be a useful guide for anyone unfamiliar with historical linguistics who is studying the history of a language and also for those who are enrolled in courses devoted to reading texts in old languages

Segmental and Prosodic Issues in Romance Phonology Pilar Prieto, Pilar Prieto i Vives, Joan Mascaró, Maria-Josep Solé, 2007-01-01 This volume is a collection of cutting edge research papers written by well known researchers in the field of Romance phonetics and phonology An important goal of this book is to bridge the gap between traditional Romance linguistics with its long and rich tradition in data collection cross language comparison and phonetic variation and laboratory phonology work The book is organized around three main themes segmental processes prosody and the acquisition of segments and prosody The various articles provide new empirical data on production perception sound change first and second language learning rhythm and intonation presenting a state of the art overview of research in laboratory phonology centred on Romance languages The Romance data are used to test the predictions of a number of theoretical frameworks such as gestural phonology exemplar models generative phonology and optimality theory The book will constitute a useful companion volume for phoneticians phonologists and researchers investigating sound structure in Romance languages and will serve to generate further interest in laboratory phonology

Phonetics and Phonology Marina Cláudia Vigário, Sonia Frota, Maria João Freitas, 2009 The papers included in the volume Phonetics and Phonology Interactions and interrelations are concerned with some of the multiple possible forms of interactions and interrelations in phonetics and phonology the phonetic and or phonological nature of speech patterns segmental and prosodic interactions and interactions between segments and features both in child and in adult language combining perception and production data and doing so from theoretically as well as experimentally oriented perspectives The book is unique in the universe of recent publications for its topic wide scope and coherent thematic content It is of interest to all researchers teachers and students in the fields of phonetics and phonology as well as to those interested in the interplay between production and perception the organization of grammar and language typology In general Phonetics and Phonology Interactions and interrelations may be a useful companion to all those wishing to widen and deepen their knowledge of the sound structure of language s
