

THE NIGHT TIMES

Spying Giraffes Spotted In london

Reporter for The Night Times in the great

On Saturday the 23rd February,
Spying
Giraffes

were spotted in the city of London, England. The giraffes had initially been reported missing from the Night Zoo by Night Zookeeper Bob, at exactly 22:58pm. Later that night, at 1:00am the giraffes were spotted by amateur Spying Giraffe hunter Ben, aged 9. Ben drew a shocking picture you see here and showed it to his parents who naturally passed it onto the authorities for authentication. (The police declined to comment

Ben's drawing of two Spying Giraffes that he spotted in London on the incident). The Night Times can exclusively reveal though, that there have been cries of foul play. Birds from across the capital have come out against Ben's claim. Peter the Pig and Paul the Patter, pigeons that live in Trafalgar Square, told this reporter: "If the Spying Giraffes had been in our city, we would have seen them!" Furthermore, when I personally journeyed to Ben's house to ask him to respond to these allegations, he tried to stamp on me and his Mother screamed at me louder than a Cockatiel. The mysterious Spying Giraffe's are known to venture beyond the now Night Zookeeper Base. Recently even tracked a giraffe to a bowling alley in Liverpool! It's clear the Spying Giraffes were missing that night. What this reporter wants to know is: did Ben actually see them?

How to Write Special Feature Articles Willard Grosvenor Bleyer, 2015-11-09 A Master Class In Journalism From 1920 This book is the result of twelve years experience in teaching university students to write special feature articles for newspapers and popular magazines By applying the methods outlined in the following pages young men and women have been able to prepare articles that have been accepted by many newspaper and magazine editors The success that these students have achieved leads the author to believe that others who desire to write special articles may be aided by the suggestions given in this book Although innumerable books on short story writing have been published no attempt has hitherto been made to discuss in detail the writing of special feature articles In the absence of any generally accepted method of approach to the subject it has been necessary to work out a systematic classification of the various types of articles and of the different kinds of titles beginnings and similar details as well as to supply names by which to identify them Particular emphasis is placed on methods of popularizing such knowledge as is not available to the general reader This has been done in the belief that it is important for the average person to know of the progress that is being made in every field of human endeavor in order that he may if possible apply the results to his own affairs The problem therefore is to show aspiring writers how to present discoveries inventions new methods and every significant advance in knowledge in an accurate and attractive form The Author
