Pesticides Des Impacts Aux Changements De Pratiques:

Pesticides Edwige Charbonnier,Aïcha Ronceux,Anne-Sophie Carpentier,Hélène Soubelet,Enrique Barriuso,2016-06-08 Les pesticides font aujourd'hui l'objet d'enjeux environnementaux considérables Cet ouvrage présente les résultats de quinze années de recherches financées par le ministère en charge de l'écologie sur la réduction des risques environnementaux associés à l'utilisation des pesticides Il met particulièrement l'accent sur le transfert des résultats pour l'appui à la décision publique

The Contamination of the Earth Francois Jarrige,Thomas Le Roux,2021-11-16 The trajectories of pollution in global capitalism from the toxic waste of early tanneries to the poisonous effects of pesticides in the twentieth century Through the centuries the march of economic progress has been accompanied by the spread of industrial pollution As our capacities for production and our aptitude for consumption have increased so have their byproducts chemical contamination from fertilizers and pesticides diesel emissions oil spills a vast plastic continent found floating in the ocean The Contamination of the Earth offers a social and political history of industrial pollution mapping its trajectories over three centuries from the toxic wastes of early tanneries to the fossil fuel energy regime of the twentieth century Agriculture and Air Quality

Carole Bedos,Sophie Générmont,Jean-François Castell,Pierre Cellier,2021-01-21 This book gives an overview of the relationships between agriculture and air quality which is an issue of increasing importance for practitioners and policy makers It provides the keys to understand natural and anthropogenic mechanisms governing emission and deposition of pollutants produced by and/or impacting agricultural activities It identifies how management practices can help mitigating emissions and how public policies on air pollution progressively addressed the agricultural sector This book was written for students researchers and agriculture actors as well as for public decision makers An Introduction to Plant Immunity

Dhia Bouktila, Yosra Habachi,2021-05-24 An Introduction to Plant Immunity is a comprehensive guide to plant immunology and stress response The book covers the topic in 21 detailed chapters starting from an introduction to the subject to the latest knowledge about plant disease resistance The topics covered in the book include plant pathogens plant diseases plant immunity passive defense mechanisms acquired resistance molecular genetics of plant immunology protein function and genetic engineering Each chapter provides a reader friendly introduction along with clear sections detailing each topic Additionally detailed references for further reading are also provided The combination of basic and advanced information on plant immunity make this book an essential textbook for students in botany and plant biology courses Researchers interested in plant genomics and the effects of environmental and microbial interactions on plants will also benefit from this informative reference Methodological recommendations to better evaluate the effects of farmer field schools mobilized to support agroecological transitions

Bakker, T., Dugué, P., Roesch, K., Phillips, S.,2022-06-30 The farmer field school FFS approach based on group experimentation of innovative practices and/or farming systems is in line with participatory farm advisory efforts This approach has an ambitious goal strengthening farmers skills so that they can adapt their practices or even invent new ones and move towards more agroecological farming systems Assessing such an advisory intervention poses significant challenges The purpose of this document is to propose fresh ways to update FFS assessment methods notably the study of changes in farming practices and the detailed analysis of FFS outcomes Project designers managers and evaluators are the target audience for this document which may also interest teachers researchers students and policymakers The elements of the FFS assessment methodology presented here stem from the collaboration between three institutions CIRAD FAO Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations and the NGO AVSF Agronomists and Veterinarians Without Borders and fieldwork carried out in cotton growing areas of Burkina Faso and Togo between 2018 and 2019 This document is divided into four parts We first define FFS and the principles of the approach then we detail the methods commonly used to assess FFS and the challenges involved We then present a comprehensive assessment method using a case study in northern Togo The final part of the report provides a basis for placing the proposed method within the process of designing an assessment for a project involving FFS

Sustainable Development and Tropical Agri-chains Estelle Biénabe, Alain Rival, Denis Loeillet, 2017-02-20 This book links tropical agri chain dynamics with which CIRAD and AFD have been involved for decades to that of sustainable development Increased environmental and social concerns urge agri chain actors and development practitioners to design innovations and public and private actors to invent regulations in connection with agri chains to improve sustainability With a view to contributing towards implementing the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs this book examines the different roles of agri chains as vectors of development as spaces of innovation as objects of evaluation and as arenas of regulation It builds upon the findings and experiences of CIRAD and its researchers together with their Southern partners and of AFD and its officers Linking agricultural production with the other economic sectors agri chains are key spaces where local and global challenges to sustainability meet and where local and global actors experiment interlinked or common solutions
