One Nation Under Dog Michael Schaffer, 2025-08-22 A witty insightful and affectionate examination of how and why we spend billions on our pets and what this tells us about ourselves. In 2003 Michael Schaffer and his wife drove to a rural shelter and adopted an emaciated dreadlocked Saint Bernard who they named Murphy. They vowed that they'd never become the kind of people who send dogs named Baxter and Sonoma out to get facials or shell out for 12,000 hip replacements. But then they started to get weird looks from the in-laws. You hired a trainer. Your vet prescribed antidepressants. So Schaffer started poking around and before long happened on an astonishing statistic: the pet industry estimated at 43 billion this year was just 17 billion barely a decade earlier. One Nation Under Dog is about America's pet obsession, the explosion over the past generation of an industry full of pet masseuses, professional dog walkers, organic kibble, leash laws, militants, luxury pet spas, veterinary grief counselors, upscale dog shampoos, and the like, a booming economy that is evidence of tremendous and rapid change in the status of America's pets. Schaffer provides a surprising and lively portrait of our country as how we treat our pets reflects evolving ideas about domesticity, consumerism, politics, and family. Through this fabulously reported and sympathetic look at both us and our dogs. PetSpeak The Editors of Pets: Part of the Family, 2000-09-30 What is your pet trying to tell you?
