Evelyne Lagrange, 2021-10-18 L'institutionnalisation et l'organisation d'un ordre juridique sur un mode représentatif impliquent un processus de différenciation fonctionnelle entre représentés et représentants permettant la réduction de la multiplicité en une unité. La personne morale apparaît comme le terme unificateur de tout système représentatif. Dans l'ordre international, ce processus est perturbé par la présence dans les organes intergouvernementaux de représentants d'Etat qui sont autant d'organes des Etats membres présents prolongés par le consentement aux actes adoptés en leur sein. Quel en est donc le sujet d'imputation, l'organisation ou ses membres ? Une théorie de l'acte doit être développée au cœur de la théorie de l'organe pour démontrer que l'organisation internationale est la personnification juridique d'une collectivité d'Etats dotée d'un système représentatif et n'est que cela. La qualité de partie, un trait constitutif et de membre d'une organisation internationale ne prive l'Etat d'aucun des attributs de la souveraineté dans l'ordre international. Au contraire, la faculté d'investir un sujet de droit de compétences nouvelles est précisément un attribut de la souveraineté. L'organisation est tout entière une création des Etats membres. Leur souveraineté n'inhibe pas le processus de personnification de l'organisation qui en retour ne la confisque pas la souveraineté et la relativité des rapports juridiques demeurent les principes régulateurs de l'ordre international.
