This cute little pup needs a new owner...

BY ANYA SMITH

On Friday at 4pm the owners of the Fairview Hotel had a shock when an unexpected guest arrived. He was a King Cavalier pup about 9 months old.

The hotel manager Ken Barker said, "He wandered in and put his paw on the desk as if he was another guest. He looked at us with big black appealing eyes as if he was asking for a room. He is an adorable dog and my staff fell in love with him. They have doted on him."

The hotel receptionist Miss Kind added, "He is so affectionate. He will make a fantastic pet for somebody. I would have had him myself if I had a bigger flat with a garden."

The dog had been living rough on the common and was starving. We are searching for a suitable new owner. An animal with such a gentle nature deserves a good home.

ADAMHA News ,1983 Enduring Shame Heather Brook Adams,2022-05-17 A study of the rhetorical power of shame and its effect on reproductive politics Not long ago unmarried pregnant women in the United States hid in maternity homes and relinquished their illegitimate children to more deserving two parent families all to conceal shameful pregnancies Although times have changed reproductive politics remain fraught In Enduring Shame Heather Brook Adams recasts the 1960s and 70s an era of presumed progress as a time when expanding reproductive rights were paralleled by communicative practices of shame that cultivated increasingly public interventions into unwed and teen pregnancy and new forms of injustice Drawing from personal interviews archival documents legal decisions public policy journalism memoirs and advocacy writing Adams articulates how the rhetorical power of shame persuaded the American public to think about reproduction sexual righteousness and unwed pregnancy Despite the aspirational goals of reproductive liberation public sentiment frequently reflected supremacist beliefs regarding racial economic and moral fitness notions that informed new public policy Enduring Shame maps a range of experiences across these decades from women's experiences in homes for unwed mothers to policy and legal changes that are typically understood as proof of shame's dissipation including Title IX legislation and Roe v Wade Rhetorical historiography and questions of reproductive justice guide the analysis and women's testimonies provide essential perspectives and context Through these histories Adams articulates a network of language affect and embodiment through which shame moves expands rhetorical understandings of the discursive power of the identities of woman and mother and considers how the gendered raced and classed aspects of shame can help us understand and support reproductive dignity Enduring Shame recovers a misunderstood part of women's recent history by considering why reproductive politics continue to be so volatile despite previous gains and why shame still figures centrally in discourse about women's reproductive and sexual freedoms
