

An anime-style illustration of Peter Pan and Tinkerbell. Peter Pan is in the center, looking forward with a slight smile. He has short, spiky blonde hair, large green eyes, and a green cap with a red feather. He is wearing a green tunic. Tinkerbell is on the right, partially visible, with her arms raised in a celebratory gesture. The background is a dark teal night sky with stars and streaks of light.

Wasser,2021-08-16 I just cannot write or I am not a good writer are familiar complaints from students in academia Many of them claim they cannot express themselves clearly in written text and their lack of this skill impedes them in their academic career In this book Nancy A Wasser argues that teachers can help solve this when they start viewing writing not as secondary to reading but as the equally important side of the same coin Those who cannot read will not be able to write Wasser explains how teaching and regular practicing of writing skills from an early age onwards helps children grow into students who are self aware of their voices By employing narrative as a process of learning to write and a way to read teachers can teach children the art of writing while also making children more aware of their own constructions of narrative Combining the focus on individual and group expression in writing lessons students can trace and reflect on their own life transformations through their writing process Good writers are not born that way but made through effort and practice Changes in curriculum may not only lead to better expressed citizens but also to more balance between teacher and children voices Philosophy in Education Jana Mohr Lone,Michael D. Burroughs,2016-02-11 Philosophy in Education Questioning and Dialog in K 12 Classrooms is a textbook in the fields of pre college philosophy and philosophy of education intended for philosophers and philosophy students K 12 classroom teachers administrators and educators policymakers and pre college practitioners of all kinds The book offers a wealth of practical resources for use in elementary middle school and high school classrooms as well as consideration of many of the broader educational social and political topics in the field including the educational value of pre college philosophy the philosophies of education that inform this philosophical practice and the relevance of pre college philosophy for pressing issues in contemporary education such as education reform child development and prejudice and privilege in classrooms The book includes sections on the expansion of philosophy beyond higher education to pre college populations the importance of wondering questioning and reflection in K 12 education the ways that philosophy is uniquely suited to help students cultivate critical reasoning and independent thinking capacities how to develop classroom communities of philosophical inquiry and their potentially transformative impact on students the cultivation of philosophical sensitivity and positive identity formation in childhood strategies for recognizing and diminishing the impact of social inequalities in classrooms and the relationship between introducing philosophy in schools and education reform Making Schools Work Kathy Hirsh-Pasek,Roberta Michnick Golinkoff,Kimberly Nesbitt,Carol Lautenbach,Elias Blinkoff,Ginger Fifer,2022 If we teach in the way that human brains learn both students and their teachers will thrive This book aligns evidence from the learning sciences on how and what students need to learn with classroom practice pre K 12 It demonstrates with hands on examples how a change in educational mindset rather than in curriculum can improve student outcomes on both standardized tests and a breadth of 21st century skills skills Written collectively by classroom teachers administrators parents and learning scientists this book shows readers how to co construct and reimagine an optimal educational system Making Schools Work offers three case studies of schools including a statewide system that are all realizing a 6 Cs approach to learning focused on collaboration communication content critical thinking creative innovation and confidence The text documents the ever evolving implementation process as well as outcomes and the ongoing work of stakeholders Readers can use this resource to create an education for all children that is culturally responsive inclusive effective and fun Book Features Helps educators teach in the way that human minds learn Jointly written in accessible language by teachers administrators parents and learning scientists Offers hands on ways to reimagine classrooms without investing in new curricula Puts teachers in the driver s seat reminding them of why they teach Provides culturally responsive inclusive effective and fun strategies Offers children the possibility of learning the skills they will need for 21st century skills success Most of us agree that it is critical at this moment in time to reimagine what school could be This reimagination must be informed by the best available science and built on current educational wisdom found in our schools This book does just that and makes clear that more playful learning across the K 12 school system would be the most natural way to help all students learn the 21st century knowledge and skills they need in life From the Foreword by Pasi Sahlberg author of Finnish Lessons 3 0 What Can the World Learn from Educational Change in Finland and professor of education Southern Cross University Lismore Australia
