The New Strategic Brand Management Jean-Noël Kapferer, 2008 Adopted internationally by business schools MBA programmes and marketing practitioners alike The New Strategic Brand Management is simply the reference source for senior strategists positioning professionals and postgraduate students Over the years it has not only established a reputation as one of the leading works on brand strategy but also has become synonymous with the topic itself The new edition builds on this impressive reputation and keeps the book at the forefront of strategic brand thinking Revealing and explaining the latest techniques used by companies worldwide author Jean No l Kapferer covers all the leading issues faced by the brand strategist today supported by an array of international case studies With both gravitas and intelligent insight the book reveals new thinking on a wealth of topics including brand architecture and diversity strategies market adaptation approaches positioning in the private label and store brand environment and much much more Whether you work for an international company seeking to leverage maximum financial value for your brand or whether you are looking for practical guidance on brand management itself Kapferer s market leading book is the one you should be reading to develop the most robust and watertight approach for your company Daniel Eatock Imprint Daniel Eatock, 2008-08-04 Imagine the work of a young designer for whom concept and humor are more important than the glossy aesthetics of mainstream periodicals and design annuals and for whom the message trumps the media and you begin to get an idea of the refreshingly smart and thought provoking work of Daniel Eatock Rejecting the widely held opinion that work made without a client is art and work for hire is design Eatock challenges both categories by purposely blurring the distinction Whether he is solving traditional client problems or those of his own choosing Eatock s work responds to personal fascinations and the pure desire to invent discover and present The first monograph on this unconventional practitioner Daniel Eatock Imprint is as unconventional as the artist himself While utilizing and embracing the expectations of a traditional monograph the London based designer also challenges and subverts them presenting works based on connections and associations through color composition titles material and format rather than in chronological or hierarchical order Constantly oscillating between art and graphic design this book is full of Eatock's astute observations and eccentric obsessions Organizing Global Technology Flows Pierre-Yves Donzé, Shigehiro Nishimura, 2013-11-12 Research on the international transfer of technology in economics and management literature has primarily focused on the role of countries and that of companies in particular multinational enterprises MNEs Similarly economic and business historians have tended to view international technology transfer as a way for economically backward countries to acquire new technologies in order to catch up with more developed economies This volume provides a more in depth understanding of how the international transfer of technologies is organized and in particular challenges the core periphery model that is still dominant in the extant literature By looking beyond national systems of innovation and statistics on foreign trade patent registration and foreign direct investment the book sheds more light on the variety of actors involved in the transfer process including engineers entrepreneurs governments public bodies firms etc and on how they make use of a broad set of national and international institutions facilitating technology transfer Put differently the volume offers a better understanding of the complexity of global technology flows by examining the role and actions of the different actors involved By bringing together a number of original case studies covering many different countries over the period from the late 19th to the 21st century the book demonstrates how technology is being transferred through complex processes involving a variety of actors from several countries using the national and international institutional frameworks Femina, 2004
