Essay Map

Introduction: Write one or two sentences to introduce your topic, including a brief mention of the main ideas.

Main Ideas: List the main ideas about your topic that you will include in your essay. These can be important facts, details to describe, points you'd like to make, or elements you'd like to discuss.

Supporting Details: Write at least three details for each main idea that will describe, explain, or define it.

Conclusion: Write one or two sentences that wrap up your essay. These can summarize your main ideas, describe what is important about your topic, or talk about what the reader should take away from the essay.

The diagram is a hierarchical flowchart for organizing an essay. It starts with a single box at the top, which branches into three boxes in the middle row. Each of these three boxes then branches into three boxes in the bottom row, resulting in a total of nine boxes. The boxes are connected by lines, indicating a flow from the top box down to the middle row, and then from each middle box down to its respective bottom row.
