Members' contributions show the funds generally met the targets of £1.25 per person. Managing authorities' expenditure on supplementary activities was around 10 per cent of budget (only 10 per cent in the case of the three smaller, non target groups) but supplementary and related activities for children and young people were around 20 per cent of the general budget. Although the majority of the income is spent on the activities, the expenditure on the materials is significant. It is not unusual to find that you need your mother and three good friends to get things done, and that you have to get things done in a particular way.

Multi-level management involvement is generally very important. Management interest must extend to all levels, starting with shareholders. But beyond the responsibility of board level for effective risk governance, management must give the operational manager, particularly cost controllers at the plant level, responsibility for the management of the level of production of the suggested solution, and the senior staff must reach agreement. Senior management can influence the timing of policy implementation and values about agreement with others. The senior staff must also implement the policy. The responsibility for the following measures must be clear:

...and the other produced a wide, strong, and well-kept road into the heart of the park. The latter road, which was made by the same method, was found to be much better than the former. The following morning, some of the men who had been working on the road, were sent to the other side of the mountain, where they were to make a road to the summit. The road was made in the same manner as the first, and was found to be much better than the former.
