The New Enclosure Brett Christophers, 2018-11-06 Much has been written about Britain's trailblazing post 1970s privatization program but the biggest privatization of them all has until now escaped scrutiny the privatization of land Since Margaret Thatcher took power in 1979 and hidden from the public eye about 10 per cent of the entire British land mass including some of its most valuable real estate has passed from public to private hands Forest land defence land health service land and above all else local authority land for farming and school sports for recreation and housing has been sold off en masse Why How And with what social economic and political consequences The New Enclosure provides the first ever study of this profoundly significant phenomenon situating it as a centrepiece of neoliberalism in Britain and as a successor programme to the original eighteenth century enclosures With more public land still slated for disposal the book identifies the stakes and asks what if anything can and should be done

Overcoming Challenges in Corpus Construction Robbie Love, 2020-01-06 This volume offers a critical examination of the construction of the Spoken British National Corpus 2014 Spoken BNC2014 and points the way forward toward a more informed understanding of corpus linguistic methodology more broadly The book begins by situating the creation of this second corpus a compilation of new publicly accessible Spoken British English from the 2010s within the context of the first created in 1994 talking through the need to balance backward capability and optimal practice for today's users Chapters subsequently use the Spoken BNC2014 as a focal point around which to discuss the various considerations taken into account in corpus construction including design data collection transcription and annotation The volume concludes by reflecting on the successes and limitations of the project as well as the broader utility of the corpus in linguistic research both in current examples and future possibilities This exciting new contribution to the literature on linguistic methodology is a valuable resource for students and researchers in corpus linguistics applied linguistics and English language teaching

Governance Indicators Helmut K. Anheier, Matthias Haber, Mark A.

Kayser,2018-10-18 As difficult as it might seem to define governance it appears to be that much more difficult to measure it Since the World Bank Institute launched the Worldwide Governance Indicators in the late 1990s the governance indicators field has flourished and experienced significant advances in terms of methodology data coverage and quality and policy relevance Other major initiatives have added to a momentum that propelled research on governance indicators seen in few other academic fields in the economic and social sciences Given these developments and the prominence and policy relevance the field of governance indicator research has achieved the time is ripe to take stock and ask what has been accomplished what the shortcomings and potentials might be and what steps present themselves as a way forward This volume the fifth edition in an annual series tackling different aspects of governance around the world assesses what has been achieved identifies strengths and weaknesses of current work and points to issues that need to be tackled in order to advance the field both in its academic importance as well as in its policy relevance In short the contributions to this volume explore the scope of existing governance indices and indicator frameworks elaborate on current challenges in measuring and analysing governance and consider how to overcome them Public Investment Management Reference Guide Jay-Hyung

Kim,Jonas Arp Fallov,Simon Groom,2020-03-03 The Public Investment Management PIM Reference Guide aims to convey country experiences and good international practices as a basis for decisions on how to address a country specific PIM reform agenda The country references are drawn largely from previous diagnostics and technical assistance reports of the World Bank The application of country diagnostics and assessments has revealed a need to address the following issues when undertaking a country reform in PIM Clarification of the definition and scope of public investment and public investment management Establishment of a sound legal regulatory and institutional setting for PIM making sure it is linked to the budget process Allocation of roles and responsibilities for key players in PIM across government Strengthening of guidance on project preappraisal appraisal and selection prioritization procedures and deepening of project appraisal methodologies Integration of strategic planning project appraisal selection and capital budgeting Management of multiyear capital budget allocations and commitments Efforts to address effective implementation procurement and monitoring of projects Strengthening of asset management and ex post evaluation Integration of PIM and public private partnership PPP in a unified framework Rationalization and prioritization of the existing PIM project portfolio Development of a PIM database and information technology in the form of a PIM information system The PIM Reference Guide does not seek to provide definitive answers or standard guidance for the common PIM issues facing countries Nor does it seek to provide a detailed template for replication across countries this would be impossible given the diversity of country situations Instead each chapter begins with an overview of the specific reform issue lists approaches and experiences from different countries and summarizes the references and good practices to be considered in designing country specific reform actions Forensic Psychology

The Domestication of Human Trafficking Katrin Roots,2022-11-01 Human trafficking has emerged as one of the top international and domestic policy concerns and is well covered and often sensationalized by the media The nature of the topic combined with various international pressures has resulted in an array of government led mandates to combat the issue The Domestication of Human Trafficking examines Canada's criminal justice approaches to human trafficking with a particular focus on the ways in which the intersecting factors of race class gender and sexuality impact practice Using a wide range of qualitative and empirically grounded research methods including extensive analysis of court documents trial transcripts and interviews with criminal justice actors this book contributes to much needed research that examines specifics and sometimes complicates the narratives of how trafficking works as a criminal offence The Domestication of Human Trafficking turns our attention to the ways in which the offence of human trafficking is made on the front lines of criminal justice efforts in Canada Proceedings of IAC-MEM 2016 in Bratislava group of authors,2016-07-01 International Academic Conference on Management Economics and Marketing in Bratislava Slovakia 2016 IAC MEM 2016 Wednesday Thursday July 6 7 2016 Illegal Drug Use Through The Lifecourse David Moxon,Jaime Waters,2016-10-04 Hidden older illegal drug users are a seldom researched group most research on illegal drug users instead focusses on the young or the institutionalised To counter this trend this book reports on a study of current hidden users of illegal drugs aged 40 and over These are individuals who have sustained illegal drug use over the long term largely away from the gaze of the authorities whilst living otherwise conventional lives holding down jobs raising families and so on Thus they have much to tell us about how illegal substances can be integrated into life over the long term how that integration intersects with other aspects of one's existence and how illegal drug use is ultimately shaped by changes in personal circumstances and wider social contexts Utilising insights from the life course perspective the development of the participants use over their lives is analysed and placed in social context The book also details the nature of their current drug use Thus the book illustrates the place of illegal drugs in the lives of the participants and how this came to be over the decades as they also juggled work family and the everyday minutiae of life with their use The result is a unique look at the illegal drug use of an often ignored group of older drug users which charts the changing role that illegal drugs have played and continue to play in their lives

Cantonese as a Second Language John C. Wakefield,2019-04-09 Cantonese is a language from southern China that is spoken by roughly 70 million people worldwide It is the language of Hong Kong cinema and has traditionally been the most prominent language spoken in Chinatowns around the world People choose to learn Cantonese for a variety of social and economic reasons because it is a heritage language that one's relatives speak because it is the language of one's partner and monolingual in laws because it is necessary for living and working in Hong Kong Macau Guangzhou or other Cantonese speaking communities because it is the bridge to fully appreciating and understanding Cantonese culture or simply because it is an irresistible challenge Whatever the motivation more and more people are choosing to learn Cantonese as an additional language This book discusses many issues related to both acquiring and teaching Cantonese If you are a learner of Cantonese this long overdue volume is essential to understanding both the grammatical and the social issues involved with learning this notoriously difficult language If you are a teacher this book will be invaluable to gaining insight into your

Disaggregating Diasporas as a Force in Role Contestation Matthew K. Godwin, 2022-09-15 Using a Role Theory lens this book investigates Tamil diaspora mass movements and interest groups as marginalised forces of domestic foreign policy influence Until now Role Theory has not considered diaspora mass movements as collective action actors nor looked at how marginalised diasporas influence elite foreign policy decision making Matthew K Godwin employs a comparative micro level decision making narrative that looks incisively at decisions faced by the British and Canadian governments in 2009 and 2013 towards the Sri Lankan civil war and its aftermath Through qualitative elite level interviews and content analysis of other primary source data Godwin convincingly argues that when diaspora interest group elites are leveraging the power of mass movements in concert with credible partisan advocates they can influence role contestation However international institutional constraints on role behaviour may stymie their preferred role performance especially if states are indispensable to the institutions their behaviour may unravel Ultimately Godwin concludes that some states can't behave badly even when they want to This book will be of interest to students and researchers of International Relations Foreign Policy Analysis Comparative Politics Migration Studies and to non government organisations who seek to influence governments
