Handbook of Environmental Psychology and Quality of Life Research Ghazlane Fleury-Bahi, Enric Pol, Oscar Navarro, 2016-08-12 This Handbook presents a broad overview of the current research carried out in environmental psychology which puts into perspective quality of life and relationships with living spaces and shows how this original analytical framework can be used to understand different environmental and societal issues Adopting an original approach this Handbook focuses on the links with other specialties in psychology especially social and health psychology together with other disciplines such as geography architecture sociology anthropology urbanism and engineering Faced with the problems of society which involve the quality of life of individuals and communities it is fundamental to consider the relationships an individual has with his different living spaces This issue of the links between quality of life and environment is becoming increasingly significant with at a local level problems resulting from different types of annoyances such as pollution and noise while at a global level there is the central question of climate change with its harmful consequences for humans and the planet How can the impact on well being of environmental nuisances and threats for example natural risks pollution and noise be reduced How can the quality of life within daily living spaces home cities work environments be improved Why is it important to understand the psychological issues of our relationship with the global environment climatic warming ecological behaviours This Handbook is intended not only for students of various disciplines geography architecture psychology town planning etc but also for social decision makers and players who will find in it both theoretical and methodological perspectives so that psychological and environmental dimensions can be better taken into account in their working practices

Connecting Places, Connecting People Reena Tiwari, 2017-09-07 What is a better community How can we reconfigure places and transport networks to create environmentally friendly economically sound and socially just communities How can we meet the challenges of growing pollution depleting fossil fuels rising gasoline prices traffic congestion traffic fatalities increased prevalence of obesity and lack of social inclusion The era of car based planning has led to the disconnection of people and place in developed countries and is rapidly doing so in the developing countries of the Global South The unfolding mega trend in technological innovation while adding new patterns of future living and mobility in the cities will question the relevance of face to face connections What will be the glue that holds communities together in the future To build better communities and to build better cities we need to reconnect people and places Connecting Places Connecting People offers a new paradigm for place making by reordering urban planning principles from prioritizing movement of vehicles to focusing on places and the people who live in them Numerous case studies including many from developing countries in the Global South illustrate how this can be realized or fallen short of in practical terms Importantly citizens need to be engaged in policy development to connect with each other and with government agencies To measure the connectivity attributes of places and the success of strategies to meet the needs an Audit Tool is offered for a continual quantitative and qualitative evaluation

Handbook of American Public Administration Edmund C. Stazyk, H. George Frederickson, 2018-10-26 Currently public administration as art and science ponders a challenging and uncertain future Thus no better time exists to take stock and ponder the practical and theoretical value of its topical coverage to date Stazyk and Frederickson have assembled an eclectic and impressive group of senior and junior scholars to join them in this intellectual exercise Collectively the contributors offer a stiletto like dissection of where and how the field's energy has been expended what knowledge it has produced what its limitations are and where future energies might best be expended Kudos to all Robert F Durant American University US This forward thinking Handbook draws on the expertise of established and emerging scholars to provide a comprehensive review of the current state and future direction of theory and practice in US public administration Chapters offer a cross disciplinary holistic review of the field pulling together leaders from subfields such as public administration public and nonprofit management finance human resource management networks nonprofits policy and politics Chapter authors conclude that the field is intellectually rich and highly nuanced but also identify numerous opportunities for growth and expansion in the coming years The Handbook charts an agenda for future research in the field The Handbook of American Public Administration is geared toward academics researchers and advanced graduate students As an authoritative text on the history and state of US public administration it proves equally suitable for national and international audiences Practitioners who may be looking for background information or state of the art knowledge about practice will also benefit from this Handbook Contributors include G Arnold G A Brewer B J Cook R S Davis L DeHart Davis M D Farnworth P S Federman S Fernandez H G Frederickson H Getha Taylor R K Ghore D Hatmaker K Hendren C J Hill N Humphrey K R Isett S Jo J E Kellough S Y Kim Y Kim L Langbein M Leighninger L E Lynn Jr D S T Matkin B Merriman C C Merritt A V Moldavanova T Nabatchi S Nicholson Crotty R O Leary Z W Oberfield A Osorio S K Pandey Y J Park S Portillo B A Radin W G Resh R L St Clair J R Sandfort L M Shimek A E Smith S R Smith E C Stazyk S Webeck E S Zeemering H L Zook The Public Administrator's Companion Sandra Emerson, Kathy Van Ness, Georgianna Streeter, Linda-Marie Sundstrom, Parker G. Ali, 2024-06-17 This new handbook provides a platform to bring together multidisciplinary researchers focusing on greening high density agglomerations from three perspectives climate change social implications and people's health Written by leading scholars and experts the chapters aim to summarize the state of the art and produce a reference book for policymakers practitioners academics and researchers to study design and build high density cities by integrating green spaces The topics covered in the book include but are not limited to Urban Heat Island Green Space and Carbon Sequestration Green Space and Social Equity Green Space and Public Health Biophilic Cities Urban Agriculture Vertical Farms Urban Farming Technologies Nature and Biodiversity Nature and Health Biophilic Design Green Infrastructure Urban Revitalization Post Covid Cities Smart and Resilient Cities Tall Buildings and Sustainable Vertical Cities Political Exercise Lawrence D. Brown, 2022-03-08 The public health benefits of giving city dwellers increased opportunities to lead physically active lifestyles are well known to urban planners public health scholars and government officials Moreover increases in active living such as walking and cycling help the environment support local businesses and reduce traffic congestion among other advantages But despite wide agreement that active living is both achievable and valuable best practices are not easy to implement In Political Exercise Lawrence D Brown presents five case studies of cities that have promoted active living with varying success through a range of approaches He shows how and why the transformation of a call for public intervention into projects programs and policies is inescapably political Brown argues that in order to implement policies that support active living their proponents must give communities a sense of ownership of recommended changes in the built environment filter the public health agenda through a range of public and private organizations and secure committed political champions At the intersection of public health and urban planning Political Exercise offers a framework for scholars policy makers and reformers to more productively address both the rationales behind active living and the political strategies that spur change
