Resources in Education, 2000 Argument in Composition John Ramage, Micheal Callaway, 2009-09-14 ARGUMENT IN COMPOSITION provides access to a wide range of resources that bear on the teaching of writing and argument The ideas of major theorists of classical and contemporary rhetoric and argument from Aristotle to Burke Toulmin and Perelman are explained and elaborated especially as they inform pedagogies of argumentation and composition Hearing Ourselves Think Ann M. Penrose, Barbara M. Sitko, 1993-07-01 In Hearing Ourselves Think cognitive process research moves from the laboratory to the college classroom where its rich research tradition continues and an important new set of instructional approaches emerges Each chapter moves from research results to classroom action providing a direct and important link between research theory and practice The book develops the concept of the research based classroom in which students actively examine the processes and contexts of reading and writing and then turn their observations into principles for practice Hearing Ourselves Think contributes to a lively new tradition of socio cognitive research in writing and reading exploring the dynamics of cognitive processes as they interact with dimensions of the academic context Media-Related Out-of-School Contact with English in Germany and Switzerland Maleika Krüger, 2023-08-22 This open access book aims to close a critical research gap in understanding how frequently German speaking adolescents come into contact with the English language through various media channels such as television books or the internet and how this contact influences learners English competences In addition this research project explores the effect of family background and gender on this contact The analysis shows frequent contact with English language media content by young learners in Germany and Switzerland More frequent contact was associated with higher language competences Differences could be found in the preferences of media content and type of media channels due to socio economic family background and gender The Literacy Cookbook Sarah Tantillo, 2012-11-16 Proven methods for teaching reading comprehension to all students The Literacy Cookbook is filled with classroom tested techniques for teaching reading comprehension to even the most hard to reach students The book offers a review of approaches that are targeted for teaching reading writing speaking and listening skills The book also includes information on how to connect reading writing and test prep Contains accessible and easy to adopt recipes for strengthening comprehension reading writing and oral fluency Terrific resources are ready for download on the companion website The materials in this book are aligned with the English Language Arts Common Core Standards The website includes an ELA Common Core Tracking Sheet a handy resource when writing or evaluating curriculum Intertexts Marguerite Helmers, 2003-01-30 Addresses the question What place does reading have in the college writing classroom Brings together compositionists engaged in teaching writing criticism and technology to re think the separation of reading and writing and to re theorize reading Reading Argumentative Texts James E. Scheuermann, 2021-10-31 This book is an introduction to acquiring and mastering tools you can use to better understand the meaning of nonfiction

argumentative texts These texts include editorials in newspapers magazines and internet websites articles essays and books in various academic fields history philosophy political science psychology sociology and printed speeches sermons and lectures

Argumentation, Communication, and Fallacies Frans H. van Eemeren, Rob Grootendorst, 2016-07-22 This volume gives a theoretical account of the problem of analyzing and evaluating argumentative discourse After placing argumentation in a communicative perspective and then discussing the fallacies that occur when certain rules of communication are violated the authors offer an alternative to both the linguistically inspired descriptive and logically inspired normative approaches to argumentation The authors characterize argumentation as a complex speech act in a critical discussion aimed at resolving a difference of opinion The various stages of a critical discussion are outlined and the communicative and interactional aspects of the speech acts performed in resolving a simple or complex dispute are discussed After dealing with crucial aspects of analysis and linking the evaluation of argumentative discourse to the analysis the authors identify the fallacies that can occur at various stages of discussion Their general aim is to elucidate their own pragma dialectical perspective on the analysis and evaluation of argumentative discourse bringing together pragmatic insight concerning speech acts and dialectical insight concerning critical discussion

Asking Big Questions Grenville J. R. Kent, 2014-06-27 What do educated urban people think about God and why What factors logical emotional experiential or intuitive incline them towards belief or towards unbelief How do they balance these factors Why do many seem to be swing voters comfortable sitting on the fence unmotivated to move far either way What common ground do they share with Christianity What are their objections to Christian belief and practice and their misunderstandings Why do many people describe intuitive and emotional attraction to believing in God but resist it intellectually What apologetic approaches would make most sense specifically to educated urban Australians What media products do they enjoy and trust And how should these insights influence apologetics Grenville Kent asks these questions in one Australian demographic to help target Big Questions a documentary film series for Christian apologetics Anyone interested in apologetics evangelical media and the application of marketing research to evangelism will be interested in this study
