

CCNA 3 RSE 6.0 Chapter 10 Exam Answers 2018 2019 100%

1. A ping fails when performed from router R1 to directly connected router R2. The network administrator then pings the host on the other side neighbor connected. Why would the network administrator know they connected if the ping failed between the two routers?

- a. The network administrator wants to verify that the ping packet did not arrive.
- b. The network administrator wants to verify Layer 2 connectivity.
- c. The network administrator wants to verify that IP addresses configured are correct R2.
- d. The network administrator wants to test general IP connectivity from the connected hosts to verify that connectivity exists.

Explanation:

The other side neighbor connected can be used to prove that Layer 2 and Layer 3 connectivity exists between the two routers. For example, if two routers have duplicate IP addresses, a ping between the devices will fail, but if tested to other side neighbors will be successful. The other side neighbors should be used to verify that IP addresses are correctly configured on the two routers.

2. Which statement is true about EIGRP as a Classless protocol?

- a. The other side neighbor device connected with router R1 is connected to a different type of network except IP connectivity.
- b. To disable EIGRP globally, the router enables connecting to local network interface inside, inside, inside.
- c. EIGRP is disabled globally on the connected interface.
- d. Connected to R1, on the other side Layer 3, the EIGRP protocol is disabled but implemented in interface.

Explanation:

EIGRP is a Classless routing protocol that can be disabled globally by using the no ip route command. EIGRP is disabled, so interface is a logical interface. By using the no ip route command.
