Nys Regents July August 2014:

After the Education Wars Andrea Gabor, 2018-06-12 The education wars have been demoralizing for teachers After the Education Wars helps us to see a better way forward Cathy N Davidson The New York Times Book Review After the Education Wars is an important book that points the way to genuine reform Diane Ravitch author of Reign of Error and The Death and Life of the Great American School System A bestselling business journalist critiques the top down approach of popular education reforms and profiles the unexpected success of schools embracing a nimbler more democratic entrepreneurialism In an entirely fresh take on school reform business journalist and bestselling author Andrea Gabor argues that Bill Gates Eli Broad and other leaders of the prevailing education reform movement have borrowed all the wrong lessons from the business world After the Education Wars explains how the market based measures and carrot and stick incentives informing today s reforms are out of sync with the nurturing culture that good schools foster and contrary to popular belief at odds with the best practices of thriving twenty first century companies as well These rich detailed stories of real reform in action illustrate how enduring change must be deeply collaborative and relentlessly focused on improvement from the grass roots up lessons also learned from both the open source software and quality movements The good news is that solutions born of this philosophy are all around us from Brockton Massachusetts where the state s once failing largest high school now sends most graduates to college to Leander Texas a large district where school improvement spurred by the ideas of quality guru W Edwards Deming has become a way of life A welcome exception to the doom and gloom canon of education reform After the Education Wars makes clear that what s needed is not more grand ideas but practical and informed ways to grow the best ones that are already transforming schools

Education for Upward Mobility Michael J. Petrilli, 2015-12-08 This book seeks answers to a fundamental question perhaps one of the most important questions in America today How can we help children born into poverty transcend their disadvantages and enter the middle class as adults And in particular what role can our schools play There s little doubt that education and opportunity are tightly joined in the twenty first century economy Almost every week brings a new study demonstrating that highly skilled workers are being rewarded with stronger pay and excellent working conditions while Americans with few skills are struggling mightily Expanding educational achievement then appears to be a clear route to expanding economic opportunity Yet much of our public discourse ends there Of course more young Americans need better education in order to succeed But what kind of education Is the goal college for all What do we mean by college Do our young people mostly need a strong foundation in academics What about so called non cognitive skills Should technical education make a comeback Education for Upward Mobility provides fresh perspectives and concrete ideas for policymakers at every level of government for leaders and policy analysts in education reform organizations in the states and in Washington for philanthropists and membership associations and for local superintendents and school board members It combines the latest research evidence on relevant topics with in depth

The Afrocentric Praxis of Teaching for Freedom

Joyce E. King, Ellen E. Swartz, 2015-08-27 The Afrocentric Praxis of Teaching for Freedom explains and illustrates how an African worldview as a platform for culture based teaching and learning helps educators to retrieve African heritage and cultural knowledge which have been historically discounted and decoupled from teaching and learning The book has three objectives To exemplify how each of the emancipatory pedagogies it delineates and demonstrates is supported by African worldview concepts and parallel knowledge general understandings values and claims that are produced by that worldview To make African Diasporan cultural connections visible in the curriculum through numerous examples of cultural continuities seen in the actions of Diasporan groups and individuals that consistently exhibit an African worldview or cultural framework To provide teachers with content drawn from Africa s legacy to humanity as a model for locating all students and the cultures and groups they represent as subjects in the curriculum and pedagogy of schooling This book expands the Afrocentric praxis presented in the authors Re membering History in Teacher and Student Learning by combining re membered democratized historical content with emancipatory pedagogies that are connected to an African cultural platform

Time magazine in 1963 His self proclaimed humanist designs merged the modern materials and functional considerations of postwar American architecture with traditional elements such as arches and colonnades Yamasaki s celebrated and iconic projects of the 1950s and 60s including the Lambert St Louis Airport and the U S Science Pavilion in Seattle garnered popular acclaim Despite this initial success Yamasaki s reputation began to decline in the 1970s with the mixed critical reception of the World Trade Center in New York one of the most publicized projects in the world at the time and the spectacular failure of St Louis s Pruitt Igoe Apartments which came to symbolize the flaws of midcentury urban renewal policy And as architecture moved in a more critical direction influenced by postmodern theory Yamasaki seemed increasingly old fashioned In the first book to examine Yamasaki s life and career Dale Allen Gyure draws on a wealth of previously unpublished archival material and nearly 200 images to contextualize his work against the framework of midcentury modernism and explore his initial successes his personal struggles including with racism and the tension his work ultimately found in the divide between popular and critical taste Your Children Are Very Greatly in Danger Justin

Murphy,2022-03-15 In Your Children Are Very Greatly in Danger the veteran journalist Justin Murphy argues that Rochester s educational disparities stem from historical and ongoing racial segregation Education reform alone cannot resolve racial inequity cities such as Rochester must first dismantle segregation Through interviews and documents Murphy shows how discriminatory policies and personal prejudice shaped the region s segregated educational system Alongside this troubling history he highlights the fight for integration from Frederick Douglass s advocacy in the 1850s to student activism inspired by the Black Lives Matter movement in the 2010s Murphy illustrates how numerous failed efforts to uphold the promise of Brown v Board of Education underline that desegregation and integration remain the best opportunities to improve educational and economic outcomes for children of color In Rochester that opportunity has been lost leading to persistently poor academic results Your Children Are Very Greatly in Danger offers both historical and contemporary analysis showing how northern cities must confront their past to build a more equitable future Intergenerational Trauma in Refugee Communities Laura Kromjak,Ajlina Karamehic-Muratovic,2024-11-08 This volume explores intergenerational trauma among refugee communities displaced throughout the world Considering patterns and findings across disciplines cultural contexts and methodologies the volume addresses the way trauma is passed on generationally among populations characterized by a large exodus from various regions and communities in which intergenerational trauma can be observed among second generation youth Drawing on studies of displaced communities worldwide this comprehensive and interdisciplinary analysis examines the effects of transgenerational trauma It explores definitions and concepts of intergenerational trauma comparing and contrasting perspectives across generations and the mechanisms at work in its transmission The volume is well suited for scholars across social sciences with interests in memory studies political violence and refugee and diaspora studies
