Haydn Washington,2019-10-01 The culmination of over three decades of writing by environmental scientist and writer Haydn Washington this book examines the global environmental crisis and its solutions Many of us know that something is wrong with our world that it is wounded At the same time we often don t know why things have gone wrong or what can be done Framing the discussion around three central predicaments the ecological the social and the economic Washington provides background as to why each of these are in crisis and presents steps that individuals can personally take to heal the world Urging the reader to accept the reality of our problems he explores practical solutions for change such as the transition to renewable energy rejection of climate denial and the championing of appropriate technology as well as a readjustment in ethical approaches The book also contains 19 solution boxes by distinguished environmental scholars With a focus on positive personal solutions this book is an essential read for students and scholars of environmental science and environmental philosophy and for all those keen to heal the world and contribute towards a sustainable future Creating Participatory Dialogue in Archaeological and Cultural Heritage Interpretation: Multinational Perspectives John H. Jameson,Sherene Baugher,2022-02-28 This volume examines evolving trends and transnational perspectives on public interpretation of archaeological and cultural heritage as well as levels of communication from local to regional national and international It is presented in the context of the evolution of cultural heritage studies from the 20th century expert approach to the 21st century people centered approach with public participation and community involvement at all phases of the decision making process Our premise is not just about bringing in community members to be partners in decision making processes some projects are being initiated by the community not the heritage experts In some instances community members are central in initiating and bringing about change rather than the archaeologists or heritage specialists In several cases in the book descendants take the lead in changing heritage narratives The book addresses several central questions Do these actions represent new emphases or more fundamental pedagogical shifts in interpretation Are they resulting in more effective interpretation in facilitating emotional and intellectual connections and meanings for audiences Are they revealing silenced histories Can they contribute to or help mediate dialogues among a diversity of cultures Can they be shared experiences as examples of good practice at national and international levels What are the interpretation and presentation challenges for the future Cultural heritage as an expression of a diversity of cultures can be an important mediator between pasts and futures In the past people in power from the dominant ethnic racial socio economic gender and religious groups determined the heritage message Minorities were often silenced their participation in the building and growth of a city county or nation s history was overlooked New philosophical methodological trends in public interpretation are reshaping the messages delivered at archaeological cultural heritage sites worldwide The role of the experts as well as the participatory engagement of audiences and stakeholders are being redefined and reassessed This book explores these processes their results and effects on the future
