Occasional Papers ,1993      Children and the Politics of Culture Sharon Stephens,2021-02-09 The bodies and minds of children and the very space of children are under assault This is the message we receive from daily news headlines about violence sexual abuse exploitation and neglect of children and from a proliferation of books in recent years representing the domain of contemporary childhood as threatened invaded polluted and stolen by adults Through a series of essays that explore the global dimensions of children at risk an international group of researchers and policymakers discuss the notion of children s rights and in particular the claim that every child has a right to a cultural identity Explorations of children s situations in Japan Korea Singapore South Africa England Norway the United States Brazil and Germany reveal how children s everyday lives and futures are often the stakes in contemporary battles that adults wage over definitions of cultural identity and state cultural policies Throughout this volume the authors address the complex and often ambiguous implications of the concept of rights For example it may be used to defend indigenous children from radically assimilationist or even genocidal state policies but it may also be used to legitimate racist institutions A substantive introduction by the editor examines global political economic frameworks for the cultural debates affecting children and traces intriguing sometimes surprising threads throughout the papers In addition to the editor the contributors are Norma Field Marilyn Ivy Mary John Hae joang Cho Saya Shiraishi Vivienne Wee Pamela Reynolds Kathleen Hall Ruth Mandel Manuela Carneiro da Cunha and Njabulo Ndebele      Teacher in Zimbabwe ,2014      Zimbabwe Brian Raftopoulos,Tyrone Savage,2004 The author is from the Institute of Development Studies at the University of Zimbabwe He examines the paradox ensuing from the Lancaster House Settlement at Zimbabwe s independence that whilst colonial rule was ended the framework was provided for continued white privilege on the basis of control of the economy by this elite and through them transnational capital He analyses the responses of the ruling including official elite the black petty bourgeoisie and the group associated with the former Rhodesian Front      (Re)Constructing Memory: Textbooks, Identity, Nation, and State James H. Williams,Wendy D. Bokhorst-Heng,2016-07-08 This book engages readers in thirteen conversations presented by authors from around the world regarding the role that textbooks play in helping readers imagine membership in the nation Authors voices come from a variety of contexts some historical some contemporary some providing analyses over time But they all consider the changing portrayal of diversity belonging and exclusion in multiethnic and diverse societies where silenced invisible marginalized members have struggled to make their voices heard and to have their identities incorporated into the national narrative The authors discuss portrayals of past exclusions around religion ethnicity sexual orientation as they look at the shifting boundaries of insider and outsider This book is thus about who we are not only demographically but also in terms of the past especially how and whether we teach discredited pasts through textbooks The concluding chapters provides ways forward in thinking about what can be done to promote curricula that are more inclusive critical and positively bonding in increasingly larger and more inclusive contexts      Moto, 1998      Indigenous Language for Development Communication in the Global South Tshepang Bright Molale, Abiodun Salawu, Mohammad Sahid Ullah, Enrique Uribe-Jongbloed, 2022-11-23

Report of the Secretary for Education and Culture for the Year Ended ... Zimbabwe. Ministry of Education and Culture, 1989      Land, Memory, Reconstruction, and Justice Cherryl Walker, Anna Bohlin, Ruth Hall, Thembela

Kepe, 2010-06-05 Land is a significant and controversial topic in South Africa Addressing the land claims of those dispossessed in the past has proved to be a demanding multidimensional process In many respects the land restitution program that was launched as part of the country s transition to democracy in 1994 has failed to meet expectations with ordinary citizens policymakers and analysts questioning not only its progress but also its outcomes and parameters Land Memory Reconstruction and Justice brings together a wealth of topical material and case studies by leading experts in the field who present a rich mix of perspectives from politics sociology geography social anthropology law history and agricultural economics The collection addresses both the material and the symbolic dimensions of land claims in rural and urban contexts and explores the complex intersection of issues confronting the restitution program from the promotion of livelihoods to questions of rights identity and transitional justice A valuable contribution to the field of land and agrarian studies both in South Africa and internationally it is undoubtedly the most comprehensive treatment to date of South Africa's postapartheid land claims process and will be essential reading for scholars and students of land reform for years to come

Liddicoat, 2018-10-18 In a world where higher education is increasingly internationalised questions of language use and multilingualism are central to the ways in which universities function in teaching research and administration Contemporary universities find themselves in complex linguistic environments that may include national level language policies local linguistic diversity an internationalised student body increasing international collaboration in research and increased demand for the use and learning of international languages especially English The book presents a critical analysis of how universities are responding these complexities in different contexts around the world The contributions show that language issues in universities are complex and often contested as universities try to negotiate the national and the international in their work In some contexts universities language policies and the ways in which they are implemented may have a negative impact on their ways of working In other contexts however universities have embraced multilingualism in ways that have opened up new academic possibilities for staff and students Collectively the chapters show that universities language policy and planning are a work in progress and that much further work is needed for universities to achieve their language goals This book was originally published as a special issue of Current Issues in Language Planning      African Books in Print, 1993
