Occupational Outlook Handbook 2012 13 Edition:

Occupational Outlook Handbook, 2012-2013 Edition ,2012 Careers in Restaurants Simone Payment,2013-07-15

This resource offers a comprehensive and detailed look at the restaurant industry for those who are interested in a career in food but don't know where to start. First the reader is introduced to the restaurant industry and its opportunities. Then each chapter covers a general trade of the business such as chef, server, and manager, highlighting the skills required for each area. Within each chapter, specific jobs are profiled such as personal chef, pastry chef, line cook, host, hostess, and server among many others. For each job, a realistic description is given, including the benefits such as working with people and career advancement opportunities, but also the hard work and long hours involved. Finally, readers learn that there are also opportunities to work with food that are corollary to the restaurant industry. Such jobs include farming, food writing, and food photography. With a profile of chef Marcus Samuelsson, this book brings working in the restaurant industry to life.

Introduction to Policing Steven M. Cox, Susan Marchionna, Brian D. Fitch, 2015-12-31. Introduction to Policing, Third Edition, continues to focus on the thought-provoking contemporary issues that underscore the challenging and rewarding world of policing. Steven M. Cox, Susan Marchionna, and experienced law enforcement officer Brian D. Fitch balance theory, research, and practice to give students a comprehensive yet concise overview of both the foundations of policing and the expanded role of today's police officers. The accessible and engaging writing style, combined with stories from the field, makes policing concepts and practices easy for students to understand and analyze. Unique coverage of policing in multicultural communities, the impact of technology on policing, and extensive coverage of policing strategies and procedures such as those that detail the use of force, make this bestselling book a must-have for policing courses. Health Care USA Harry A.

Youth labor is an important element in our modern economy, but as students' consumption habits have changed, so too have their reasons for working. In Consuming Work, Yasemin Besen-Cassino reveals that many American high school and college students work for social reasons, not monetary gain. Most are affluent suburban white youth employed in part-time jobs at places like the Coffee Bean, so they can be associated with a cool brand, hangout with their friends, and get discounts. Consuming Work offers a fascinating picture of youth at work and how jobs are marketed to these students Besen Cassino also shows how the roots of gender and class inequality in the labor force have their beginnings in this critical labor sector Exploring the social meaning of youth at work and providing critical insights into labor and the youth workforce Consuming Work contributes a deeper understanding of the changing nature of American labor Ethics in the Anthropology of Business Timothy de Waal Malefyt, Robert J Morais, 2017-05-02 Ethics in business is a major topic both in the social sciences and in business itself Anthropologists long attendant to the intersection of ethics and practice are particularly well suited to offer vital insights on the subject This timely collection considers a range of ethical issues in business through the examination of anthropologically informed theory and case examples The meaning of ethical values practices and education are explored as well as practical ways of implementing them while the specific ethical challenges of industries such as advertising market research and design are considered Contributions from anthropologists in business and academia promise a broad range of perspectives and add to the growing discussion on the ways anthropologists study work teach and engage in a variety of industry settings Engagingly written Ethics in the Anthropology of Business will be of interest to a wide variety of audiences including practicing anthropologists current and future business leaders and scholars and students from a range of social sciences
