Regional Dynamics In A Decentralized Indonesia:

Regional Dynamics in a Decentralized Indonesia Hal Hill, 2014-05-20 Indonesia is the world's largest archipelagic state. In 2001 it embarked on a big bang decentralization involving a major transfer of administrative, political and financial authority to its districts, now numbering more than 500. Together with the rapid transition from authoritarian to democratic rule in the late 1990s, this initiative has transformed the country's political, social and business life. While national government is the major area of contestation, power has shifted irreversibly away from the centre. How this significantly increased regional autonomy works will have a crucial bearing on the future of the Indonesian nation-state. This volume features contributions by over 40 writers with deep expertise on Indonesia. The book provides a timely, comprehensive and analytical assessment of the country's regional development dynamics in the post-decentralization environment. It explores historical, political and development patterns at the regional level, the relationship between decentralization and governance, local level perspectives, migration, cities and connectivity, and the challenges confronting the peripheral regions of Aceh and Papua.

Decentralization of government and forestry in Indonesia Thung, P.H., 2019-06-03 The decentralization program that Indonesia embarked on in 1998 continues to unfold through manifold, sometimes contradictory processes. This working paper presents a concise and up-to-date overview of the aims, dimensions and dynamics of decentralization.

The Divergent Nation of Indonesia Stefani Nugroho, 2020-07-28 This book explores how Indonesia is imagined differently by young people in the three cities of Jakarta, Kupang and Banda Aceh. Throughout the course of Indonesia's colonial and postcolonial history, Jakarta, the capital, has always occupied a central position, while Kupang in East Nusa Tenggara and Banda Aceh in Nanggroe Aceh Darussalam are located at the peripheries. The book analyses the convergences and divergences in how the country is perceived from these different vantage points and the implications for Indonesia, also providing a new perspective to the classic and contemporary theories of the nation. By examining the heterogeneity of the imaginings of the nation from below, it moves away from the tendency to focus on the homogeneity of the nation found in the classic theories such as Anderson's and Gellner's, as well as in more recent theories on everyday and banal nationalism. Using the tenets of standpoint theory and Laclau and Mouffe's theory of hegemony, the nation is acknowledged as an empty signifier that means different things depending on the positionality of the perceiving subject. The work appeals to scholars of nation studies and Asian and Indonesian studies, as well as those interested in the empirical grounding of poststructuralist theories.

Rethinking Power Relations in Indonesia Michaela Haug, Martin Rössler, Anna-Teresa Grumbli, 2016-07-15 Since colonial rule, the island of Java served as Indonesia's imagined centre and prime example of development, while the Outer Islands were constructed as the state's marginalised periphery. Recent processes of democratisation and regional autonomy, however, have significantly changed the power relations that once produced the marginality of the Outer Islands. This book explores processes of political, economic and cultural transformations in Indonesia, emphasizing their implications for centre-periphery relations from the perspective of the archipelago's margins Structured along three central themes the book first provides theoretical contributions to the understanding of marginality in Indonesia The second part focuses on political transformation processes and their implications for the Outer Islands The third section investigates the dynamics caused by economic changes on Indonesia's periphery Chapters written by experts in the field offer examples from various regions which demonstrate how power relations between centre and periphery are getting challenged contested and reshaped The book fills a gap in the literature by analysing the implications of the recent transformation processes for the construction of marginality on Indonesia's Outer Islands Yudhoyono Presidency Edward Aspinall, 2016-04-29 The presidency of Susilo Bambang

Yudhoyono 2004-14 was a watershed in Indonesia's modern democratic history Yudhoyono was not only the first Indonesian president to be directly elected but also the first to be democratically re-elected Coming to office after years of turbulent transition he presided over a decade of remarkable political stability and steady economic growth But other aspects of his rule have been the subject of controversy While supporters view his presidency as a period of democratic consolidation and success critics view it as a decade of stagnation and missed opportunities This book is the first comprehensive attempt to evaluate both the achievements and the shortcomings of the Yudhoyono presidency With contributions from leading experts on Indonesia's politics economy and society it assesses the Yudhoyono record in fields ranging from economic development and human rights to foreign policy the environment and the security sector Managing Globalization in the Asian

Century Hal Hill, 2016-11-17 The global centre of gravity continues to shift to the Asia Pacific the most dynamic region in the world These economies have generally grown faster for longer periods of time than any other major region in world history Their embrace of globalization has been a central feature and driver of their dynamism The management of Asia Pacific economic integration and globalization is crucial not only for the countries themselves but also for the state of the global economy including importantly latecomer developing economies who look to the region for analytical and development policy lessons Twenty-eight leading international authorities in the field drawn from nine countries provide a comprehensive examination of the causes consequences and challenges of globalization in a volume that celebrates the distinguished career of Professor Prema Chandra Athukorala Among the major issues examined are the region's distinctive approach to trade liberalization the effects of economic growth on poverty reduction and the labour market the special challenges of by-passed regions the role of ideas in influencing policy making the modalities of connecting to global production networks and the importance of remittances in economic development Several country case studies provide in-depth analyses of development processes and outcomes These include episodes in economic development the challenges faced by transition economies the macroeconomics of adjusting to slower growth and rising debt in advanced economies and the so-called middle income trap phenomenon REDD+ on the ground Erin O Sills, Stibniati S Atmadja, Claudio de Sassi, Amy E Duchelle, Demetrius L

Kweka, Ida Aju Pradnja Resosudarmo, William D Sunderlin, 2014-12-24 REDD is one of the leading near-term options for global climate change mitigation More than 300 subnational REDD initiatives have been launched across the tropics responding to both the call for demonstration activities in the Bali Action Plan and the market for voluntary carbon offset credits

Land and Development in Indonesia John F McCarthy, 2017-03-09 Indonesia was founded on the ideal of the e Sovereignty of the People which suggests the pre eminence of people s rights to access use and control land to support their livelihoods Yet many questions remain unresolved How can the state ensure access to land for agriculture and housing while also supporting land acquisition for investment in industry and infrastructure What is to be done about indigenous rights Do registration and titling provide solutions Is the land reform agenda e legislated but never implementede still relevant How should the land questions affecting Indonesia s disappearing forests be resolved The contributors to this volume assess progress on these issues through case studies from across the archipelago from large scale land acquisitions in Papua to asset ownership in the villages of Sulawesi and Java to tenure conflicts associated with the oil palm and mining booms in Kalimantan Sulawesi and Sumatra What are the prospects for the e people s sovereignty in regard to land

Islam, State and Society in Indonesia Yanwar Pribadi, 2018-06-13 Islamic powers in secular countries have presented a challenge for states around the world including Indonesia home to the largest Muslim population as well as the third largest democracy in the world This book explores the history of the relationships between Islam state and society in Indonesia with a focus on local politics in Madura It identifies and explains factors that have shaped and characterized the development of contemporary Islam and politics in Madura and recognizes and elucidates forms and aspects of the relationships between Islam and politics between state and society between conflicts and accommodations between piety tradition and violence in that area and the forms and characters of democratization and decentralization processes in local politics This book shows how the area s experience in dealing with Islam and politics may illuminate the socio political trajectory of other developing Muslim countries at present living through comparable democratic transformations Madura was chosen because it has one of the most complex relationships between Islam and politics during the last years of the New Order and the first years of the post New Order in Indonesia and because it is a strong Muslim area with a history of a very strong religious as well as cultural tradition than is commonly understood and is largely ignored in literature on Islam and politics Based on extensive sets of anthropological fieldwork and historical research this book makes an important contribution to the analysis of Islam and politics in Indonesia and future socio political trajectory of other developing Muslim countries experiencing comparable democratic transformations It will be of interest to academics in the field of Religion and Politics and Southeast Asian Studies in particular Southeast Asian politics anthropology and history

The Jokowi Presidency: Indonesia's Decade of Authoritarian Revival Sana Jaffrey, Eve Warburton, 2025-07-18 The rise of Joko Widodo Jokowi to the presidency in 2014 marked an optimistic turn in Indonesia At a time when politics were dominated by oligarchs New Order era holdovers and corrupt politicians Jokowi s populist style and humble origins embodied the change that many Indonesians desired He promised the public a cleaner style of government and fast paced development and his progressive allies believed he would protect Indonesia's young democratic institutions Yet when Jokowi stepped down from office a decade later he left behind a fragile economy and a hollow democracy This volume examines Jokowi's political evolution and the mark he left on Indonesia It casts Jokowi's decade in office as one of authoritarian revival that saw the return of statist developmentalism in the economic sphere and the resurrection of New Order era tactics of co-optation and repression in the political sphere The volume brings together experts from a wide range of fields including foreign policy security economics politics law and human rights In different ways all contributors view Jokowi as a disruptive president whose ambitious developmental agenda came at a high cost for Indonesia's democracy

Gender Equality and Diversity in Indonesia: Identifying Progress and Challenges Angie Bexley, Sarah Xue Dong, Diah Hadi Setyonaluri, 2023-11-29 Over the past 20 years gender relations and the expression of power and authority between men and women in Indonesia have been shaped by the forces of reformasi decentralisation a reassertion of central power and economic transitions These changes have given rise to policy reform an increase in women's political representation and new expressions of diverse gender identities But to what extent has the gender order of the New Order where women's role as a mother was the basis of citizenship been challenged or just found new articulations What shape do contemporary contestations to gendered power take The chapters in this volume bring gender to the centre stage and provide reflections on the political economic social and cultural progress and barriers in achieving gender equality and diversity in Indonesia

The Political Economy of Redistribution in Indonesia Gerrit J. Gonschorek, 2023-12-13 This book analyses how different institutional intergovernmental transfer designs influence patronage and favoritism in public fund allocations in Indonesia Presenting original research and investigating existing theories on the determinants of public fund allocations the book uses Indonesia as a case study Indonesia often claimed to be characterized by money politics provides an ideal setting for this analysis The country's decentralized fiscal system consists of various institutional intergovernmental transfer designs allocating public funds to a large variety of districts to finance public service provision The author exploits those distinctive differences between various institutional intergovernmental transfer designs and investigates their influence on the prevalence of favoritism and patronage in public funds allocations while holding the political system the observation period and the government officials involved constant A valuable contribution to the literature on the political economy of redistribution this book will be of interest to academics working on economics and political science particularly in public finance and development economics but also in development studies or Southeast Asian studies

Agricultural Development in the World Periphery Vicente Pinilla, Henry Willebald, 2018-02-06 This book brings together analysis on the conditions of agricultural sectors in countries and regions of the world's peripheries from a wide variety of international contributors The contributors to this volume proffer an understanding of the processes of agricultural transformations and their interaction with the overall economies of Africa Asia and Latin America Looking at the nineteenth and twentieth centuries the onset of modern economic growth the book studies the relationship between agriculture and other economic sectors exploring the use of resources land labour capital and the influence of institutional and technological factors in the long run performance of agricultural activities Pinilla and Willebald challenge the notion that agriculture played a negligible role in promoting economic development in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries when the impulse towards industrialization in the developing world was more impactful Indonesia's Failure in Papua Emir Chairullah, 2021-12-28 Chairullah investigates how the political social and economic interests of national and local elites were negotiated in the formulation and early stages of Special Autonomy in Papua Province Indonesia The Papuan case lends support to the current conception of elite theory which considers the influence of actors and dynamics beyond power elites in the decision making process The failure of the policy implementation as a conflict reduction strategy in the Papuan case can be attributed to the dynamics of elite configurations during the negotiation and early implementation stages Chairullah presents two significant new findings for research on Papuan Special Autonomy Firstly that secret negotiations were held between Papuan and national elites during Abdurrahman Wahid's presidency and these were crucial in reducing separatist sentiment in Papua Secondly that the United States through Freeport McMoRan strongly influenced the Special Autonomy negotiation process The actions of national elites in Jakarta led to widespread disappointment about the policy at all levels in Papua and the subsequent escalation of separatist sentiment based on Papuan ethnic identity An important book for scholars of Indonesian politics and society and especially those with a particular interest in the Papuan conflict Asian Migrations Tony Fielding, 2015-07-16 This textbook describes and explains the complex reality of contemporary internal and international migrations in East Asia Taking an interdisciplinary approach Tony Fielding combines theoretical debate and detailed empirical analysis to provide students with an understanding of the causes and consequences of the many types of contemporary migration flows in the region Key features of Asian Migrations Comprehensive coverage of all forms of migration including labour migration student migration marriage migration displacement and human trafficking Text boxes containing key concepts and theories More than 30 maps and diagrams Equal attention devoted to broad structures e.g. political economy and individual agency e.g. migration behaviours Emphasis on the conceptual and empirical connections between internal and international migrations Exploration of the policy implications of the trends and processes discussed Written by an experienced scholar and teacher of migration studies this is an essential text for courses on East Asian migrations and mobility and important reading for courses on international migration and Asian societies more generally The Coalitions Presidents Make Marcus Mietzner, 2023-12-15 In The Coalitions Presidents Make Marcus Mietzner explains how Indonesia has turned its volatile post-authoritarian presidential system into one of the world's most stable He argues that since 2004 Indonesian presidents have deployed nuanced strategies of coalition building to consolidate their authority and these coalitions are responsible for the regime stability in place today In building coalitions

Indonesian presidents have looked beyond parties and parliament the traditional partners of presidents in most other countries In Indonesia actors such as the military the police the bureaucracy local governments oligarchs and Muslim groups are integrated into presidential coalitions by giving them the same status as parties and parliament But while this inclusiveness has made Indonesia s presidential system extraordinarily durable it has also caused democratic decline In order to secure the stability of their coalitions presidents must observe the vested interests of each member when making policy decisions The Coalitions Presidents Make details the process through which presidents balance their own powers and interests with those of their partners encouraging patronage oriented collaboration and disincentivizing confrontation

Governing Urban Indonesia Edward Aspinall,Amalinda Savirani,2024-08-28 Indonesia has become a majority urban society Despite the classic images of rice fields volcanoes and rural life we often associate with the country now almost 60 per cent of Indonesia s people live in cities towns suburbs gated communities and other urban areas Urbanisation has brought with it a familiar range of problems including some of the worst traffic jams and air pollution in the world housing scarcity periodic flooding and dramatic land subsidence These problems pose massive challenges to Indonesian governments as they try to provide clean water public transport housing garbage disposal and other services to urban dwellers Governing Urban Indonesia brings together scholars and practitioners with diverse backgrounds to examine how urbanisation is remaking Indonesia and how governments are responding It focuses on how varied political patterns are shaping urban governance enabling some cities to pioneer improved service delivery and better public amenities for their citizens while others stagnate And it brings to bear multiple perspectives on how historical legacies changing residential patterns social inequality and myriad other factors are combining to produce a new social and political landscape across urban Indonesia
