

Below is the Written Composition (Persuasive) from last year's released STAAR Test:

Write an essay stating your opinion on whether a person must acquire material possessions to be happy.

Many people attach themselves to "things" and then when those things are lost or are taken away – they are miserable. A person does not need to acquire material possessions to be happy.
Having a loving family is more important than acquiring material possessions. Imagine being able to attain every material thing imaginable, but having no one to enjoy the fun with each day. Being surrounded by people who support you and encourage you to be your best can even make you forget about the "things" that you don't have.
Often times people take being in good health for granted. Right now there are people in the cancer units and the burn units of hospitals around the country, wishing for better days. They would probably get rid of all of the material things they own just to be in better health.
Being surrounded by a loving family and having your health are far more important statuses in life than having a lot of material things that don't guarantee happiness. A person simply doesn't have to acquire material possessions to be happy.
