Need: Finding Anna, Book 2 Sherri Hayes, 2017-10-02 Book 2 of a 5 book series As Brianna comes to terms with the realization that she is no longer a slave she must figure out what she wants for her life Forgetting her past isn't an option It is an integral part of who she is now and it will forever shape her view of life The one thing she knows is that she cannot imagine her life without the man who saved her but can she be what he needs Stephan never imagined falling in love with the woman he rescued but the thought of her no longer being part of his life is physically painful The scars from her past continue to haunt her and he is helpless to stop them All he can do is try to help her work through the traumas of her past Can he be everything she needs and help her move on Translation and Web Searching Vanessa Enríquez

Raído, 2013-11-07 The book presents a comprehensive study of various cognitive and affective aspects of web searching for translation problem solving Research into the use of the web as an external aid of consultation has frequently occupied a secondary position in the investigation of translation processes The book aims to bridge this gap in the literature Beginning with a detailed survey of previous studies of these processes it then focuses on web search behaviors using qualitative and quantitative analysis that presents a multifaceted overview of translation oriented web searching The book concludes by addressing the implications for the teaching of and research into translators web searching skills With regard to teaching the book's didactic discussions will make it a valuable tool for both translator trainers and translation students wanting to familiarize themselves with the intricacies of Web searching and to reflect upon the pedagogical implications of the study for acquiring online information literacy in translator training Entwined Joyce Wallace Scott, 2017 The remarkable story of outsider artist Judith Scott who was institutionalized for more than thirty years before being reunited with her sister From birth fraternal twins Judith and Joyce Scott lived as if they were one person in two bodies understanding instinctively what the other wanted and felt despite the fact that Judy had Down syndrome profound deafness and never learned to speak or sign But this idyllic childhood of color texture and feeling ended abruptly when at age seven Judy was taken from their shared bed while Joyce slept not knowing that the wholeness they had known was being shattered For the next three decades Joyce is left without her other half and must grieve unexpected loss while navigating her relationship with an emotionally distant mother alone Even so her life parallels her twin's in surprising ways While in college Joyce too is sent away pressured to relinquish the secret daughter she bore in hiding to adoption Decades later Joyce resolves to reunite with her sister and fill their remaining years with joy After overcoming legal hurdles to become Judy's legal guardian she enrolls her in an art center for adults with disabilities in Oakland California Judy is hesitant at first but after two years of uninterested painting and drawing her untapped creativity suddenly ignites when she is introduced to fiber art and she begins carefully and intentionally winding yarn and other materials around combinations of found objects With unflagging intensity Judy works five days a week for the next eighteen years producing more than two hundred astoundingly diverse fiber sculptures

Unconcerned with her growing fame she remains fully immersed in her artistic vision until her death in 2005 Today Judith Scott's work is displayed in museums and galleries around the world in some of the most prestigious collections of contemporary art Entwined is a penetrating personal narrative that explores a complex world of disability loss reunion and the resiliency of the human spirit Part memoir part biography Entwined is a poignant and astonishing story about sisters finding their voices in each other's love and through art

Trading Futures Jim Powell, 2016-03-10 With his gallows humour and observational wit Jim Powell gives us a vivid portrait of a man in meltdown Daily Mail When I was small my mother showed me how to grow a carrot from a carrot She filled a jam jar with water cut the top off a carrot ran a cocktail stick horizontally through the stub and suspended it over the jar just touching the water In time roots sprouted and when they were long enough and strong enough the plant was translated to the garden and new carrots grew This was one of the many exciting ways in which I was prepared for adult life This is Matthew Oxenhay at sixty a stranger to his wife an embarrassment to his children and failed former contender for the top job at his City firm Seizing on his birthday party as an opportunity to deliver some rather crushing home truths to his assembled loved ones it seems as though Matthew might have hit rock bottom The truth however is that he has some way to go yet With forensic precision and mordant wit Matthew unpicks the threads that bind him a comfortable home in the suburbs a career spent trading futures and a life that bears little resemblance to the one he imagined for himself at twenty When he unexpectedly bumps into Anna the one who got away the stage is set for an epic unravelling Darkly funny Trading Futures forces us to confront how change like death is an inevitable fact of life feared by most it can transform or overwhelm us This is a brilliantly observed novel for fans of works such as John Lanchester's Mr Phillips and On Chesil Beach by Ian McEwan It also featured as Radio 4's Book at Bedtime
