

The Anatomy of a Nerve Impulse

Part 1: The Anatomy of Neurons

Neurons form elaborate networks through which nerve impulses—action potentials—travel. Each neuron has as many as 15,000 connections with neighboring neurons.

Neurons do not touch each other; instead, neurons interact at contact points called synapses: a junction within two nerve cells, consisting of a miniature gap which impulses pass by a neurotransmitter. A neuron transports its information by way of a nerve impulse called an action potential.

The action potential can originate in the cell body when it has received a stimulus, then it moves down the axon of that neuron. When an action potential arrives at the synapse, it stimulates the release of neurotransmitters. These neurotransmitters are released into the synaptic cleft to bind to the receptors of the adjacent cell.

Color the Neurons

Color the cell body and the dendrites yellow. ☐

Color the axon blue ☐ and the myelin sheath dark blue ☐

Color the axon terminals red ☐

Highlight the synapse with green. ☐

Use an arrow → to show movement of the action potential. ☐

On a cellular level, the neuron cell has vesicles that contain the neurotransmitters. Each neurotransmitter can carry a different type of message. Some neurotransmitters, like serotonin, regulate appetite, sleep and mood.

1. The junction between two communicating neurons is called the _____
2. A nerve impulse traveling down a neuron is called an _____
3. Where does the action potential originate from? _____
4. Chemicals released at the end of the neuron are called _____
5. What organelles store neurotransmitters? _____
6. What neurotransmitter is associated with sleep and mood? _____
