Making the Most of Small Groups Debbie Diller, 2023-10-10 Author Debbie Diller turns her attention to small reading groups and the teacher's role in small group instruction. Making the Most of Small Groups: Differentiation for All grapples with difficult questions regarding small group instruction in elementary classrooms such as: How do I find the time? How can I be more organized? How do I form groups? How can I differentiate to meet the needs of all of my students? Structured around the five essential reading elements: comprehension, fluency, phonemic awareness, phonics, and vocabulary, the book provides practical tips, sample lessons, lesson plans, and templates, suggestions for related literacy work stations, and connections to whole group instruction. In addition to ideas to use immediately in the classroom, Diller provides an overview of relevant research and reflection questions for professional conversations.

Reading, Writing, and Talk Mariana Souto-Manning, Jessica Martell, 2016-05-14 This book invites readers to consider ways in which their language and literacy teaching practices can better value and build upon the brilliance of every child. In doing so it highlights the ways in which teachers and students build on diversities as strengths to create more inclusive and responsive classrooms. After inviting readers to consider and better understand the diverse language and literacy practices of diverse children it offers invitations for teachers to make these practices foundational in their own classrooms and to consider meaningful possibilities for learning authentically with young children in primary grades. It features chapters that focus on oral language reading and writing development all while recognizing that these are not separate. In each of these chapters readers are invited to consider diverse possibilities, perspectives and points of view in practice within primary grades classrooms. Throughout it offers ways to foster classroom learning communities where racially, culturally and linguistically diverse children are supported and valued.
