Cities in a Sunburnt Country Margaret Cook, Lionel Frost, Andrea Gaynor, Jenny Gregory, Ruth A. Morgan, Martin Shanahan, Peter Spearritt, 2022-05-19 As Australian cities face uncertain water futures what insights can the history of Aboriginal and settler relationships with water yield Residents have come to expect reliable safe and cheap water but natural limits and the costs of maintaining and expanding water networks are at odds with forms and cultures of urban water use Cities in a Sunburnt Country is the first comparative study of the provision use and social impact of water and water infrastructure in Australia's five largest cities Drawing on environmental urban and economic history this co authored book challenges widely held assumptions both in Australia and around the world about water management consumption and sustainability From the living water of Aboriginal cultures to the rise of networked water infrastructure the book invites us to take a long view of how water has shaped our cities and how urban water systems and cultures might weather a warming world

Never Again Andrea Gaynor, Peter Newman, Philip Jennings, 2018 The lead up to the 2017 Western Australian state election saw a large and lively protest over the construction of stage 8 of the Roe Highway Roe 8 and the Perth Freight Link Years of opposition to Roe 8 culminated in civil disobedience mass arrests and media theatrics as the bulldozers tore across Aboriginal heritage sites and through much loved bushland and wetland just weeks out from an election the government appeared likely to lose When Labor was swept to power in the biggest landslide victory ever delivered by Western Australian voters the Roe 8 contracts were cancelled However the planning systems that enabled Roe 8 and the Perth Freight Link remain in place and in need of reform This book illuminates what was at stake in the conflict for Perth residents Aboriginal heritage and the environment It traces the history of Roe 8 and the Perth Freight Link to show what needs to be done in order to ensure that Western Australian people and environments never again have such a damaging project thrust upon them It surveys the issues and makes recommendations across transport planning environment health and Aboriginal heritage policy areas It also captures the nature of the diverse and vigorous resistance to the project setting the struggle and its bittersweet victory in a wider context Subject Environmental Studies Australian Studies Aboriginal Studies Report of the Department of Mines, Western Australia for the Year ... Western Australia. Department of Mines,1903 Invisible Country Bill Bunbury,2015 When Europeans first settled in Australia the land withheld many of its secrets from these new arrivals There were broad rivers wide plains and tall forests all of which to European eyes suggested promising sites for settlement However to many of the new settlers the First Australians the Aboriginal people were a puzzle They moved freely through the country they knew intimately What few settlers realized then was that the Aboriginal people and the land they lived in were indistinguishable Invisible Country describes the environmental changes that have occurred in southwestern Australia since European settlement through four case studies of the development of local rivers forests and coastal plains These stories compiled through extensive conversations with farmers ecologists traditional owners and others who rely on the land are book ended by an examination of the historical perspective in which these changes have occurred It is a reminder that the land owns the people not the other way around and this is the beginning of a conversation about understanding and caring for the land that all Australians are fortunate to live in Librarians ebook available Subject Australian Studies Environmental Studies History Handbook of Water Resources Management: Discourses, Concepts and Examples Janos J.
