North West Setswana Paper 2 2015:

Public Health Communication Challenges to Minority and Indigenous Communities Aiseng, Kealeboga, Fadipe, Israel A., 2024-04-30 Language has emerged as both a powerful bridge and a formidable barrier in the realm of public health communication. The ongoing COVID 19 pandemic has highlighted a significant challenge faced by minority and indigenous communities particularly in regions of Sub Saharan Africa. It is a challenge deeply rooted in the historical use of colonial languages English French and Spanish to disseminate critical health information. For many this has translated into a linguistic exclusion depriving them of access to essential resources and a voice in matters of national interest. This issue transcends mere communication it touches upon the fundamental rights of individuals to participate in their own healthcare decisions and influences their sense of belonging and citizenship. Public Health Communication Challenges to Minority and Indigenous Communities proposes a solution with a transformative potential. This groundbreaking edited volume invites scholars from diverse fields to contribute their research shedding light on the linguistic dimensions of public health communication during the COVID 19 era. By investigating the impact of language on various aspects of society from medical information to education this book seeks to synthesize the wealth of sociolinguistic research into an accessible framework. It is an invitation to explore the role of language in shaping our perceptions of citizenship belonging and empowerment.

Global Perspectives on Youth Language Practices Cynthia Groff, Andrea Hollington, Ellen Hurst-Harosh, Nico Nassenstein, Jacomine Nortier, Helma Pasch, Nurenzia Yannuar, 2022-02-07 Most journal articles edited volumes and monographs on youth language practices deal with one specific variety one geographical setting or with one specific continent. This volume bridges these different studies and it approaches youth language from a much broader angle. A global framework and a diversity of methodologies enable a wider perspective that gives room to comparisons of youth's manipulations and linguistic agency transnational communicative practices and language contact scenarios. The research presented addresses structural features of everyday talk and text youth identity issues related to specific purposes and contexts and sociocultural emphases on ideologies and belonging. Combining insights into sociolinguistic and structural features of youth language the volume includes case studies from Asia Indonesia Australia and Oceania Arnhem Land New Ireland South America the Amazon Chile Argentina Europe Germany Spain and Africa Uganda Nigeria DR Congo Central African Republic South Africa. It expands on existing publications and offers a more comparative and global approach without a division of youth's strategies in terms of geographical space or language family. This collection including a conceptual introduction is of interest to scholars from several linguistic subfields working in different regional contexts as well as sociologists and anthropologists working in the field of adolescence and youth studies. The Oxford Guide to the Bantu Languages Lutz Marten, Ellen Hurst-Harosh, Nancy C. Kula, Jochen Zeller, 2025-08-19 This volume brings together leading scholars from Africa Europe the Americas and beyond to provide a detailed account of the languages of the Bantu family.

which cover an area from Cameroon and Kenya in the north to South Africa in the south The Bantu family is part of the Niger Congo phylum and one of the world s biggest language groups comprising around 500 languages The family includes major languages with large numbers of speakers such as Zulu Kinyarwanda and Swahili the most widely spoken and taught African language as well as many community languages and several endangered languages Bantu languages feature prominently in the complex and multilingual language ecologies that are characteristic of the linguistic situation in much of Africa and they provide rich evidence for the study of theoretical and comparative linguistics language contact and language change They play an important role in education commerce culture and artistic expression in the media and public discourse in governance and social justice and are central to the future of the continent and the well being of its communities The first part of The Oxford Guide to the Bantu Languages provides background and context with chapters exploring the history of research in the field language and prehistory in Bantu speaking Africa and typology and variation Chapters in the second part offer broad comparative overviews of Bantu phonology morphology syntax semantics and pragmatics socio and applied linguistics before Parts III VII cover more specific topics in Bantu linguistics across a variety of subfields ranging from structural issues such as the augment and melodic tone to historical and sociolinguistic topics such as Bantu languages in the diaspora and language policy and standardization The chapters in the final part offer individual structural overviews of a range of languages from across the Bantu speaking area The book will be an essential resource for students and researchers specializing in the Bantu languages and for typologists and comparative linguists more broadly

Handbook of Literacy in Africa R. Malatesha Joshi,Catherine A. McBride,Bestern Kaani,Gad Elbeheri,2023-07-28 This volume highlights the shortcomings concerning literacy development in Africa and collates the current available literature based on empirical research in various countries in a coherent manner Further emphasized is how the current research can guide practical information to improve the literacy situation in Africa The research studies will encompass various fields such as linguistics neurosciences and education and will provide future research directions and instructional recommendations to improve the literacy situation in Africa

From Polarisation to Multispecies Relationships Janet J. McIntyre-Mills,Yvonne Corcoran-Nantes,2021-08-05 This book explores the concept of multi species relationships and suggests critical systemic pathways to protect shared habitats This book discusses how the eradication of species as a result of rapid urbanisation places humanity at risk This book demonstrates how narrow anthropocentrism has focused on the rights of human beings at the expense of other species and the environment This book explores a priori norms and a posteriori measures and indicators to include and protect multiple species This book aims to strengthen institutional capacity and powers to address and extend the UN 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda by drawing on local wisdom but also the need to implement laws to prevent ecocide This book highlights that our fragile interdependence requires a recognition of our hybridity and interconnectedness within the web of life and suggests ways to reframe policy within and beyond the nation state to support living systems of
