

Video Worksheet: "Dogs and More Dogs"

BIOLOGY: Evolution

Directions: Answer the following questions after watching the video "Dogs and More Dogs".

1. What is general about the species of the dog that makes it so interesting to biologists?

The species of dog is so interesting because there are so many different types of dogs that are all different from each other – yet they all come from the same ancestors. The whole world of domesticated breeds are based on that original 15,000-year-old dog.

2. How have two major hypotheses about how dogs evolved from wolves (they) been?

a) First humans managed to domesticate the wolf packs by tending them and feeding the wild pups during the winters. b) First people were killing the foxes and they learned, step and not bit us, treat the animal human-like through the actual release of several poisonous substances from

3. What was the observation in the Tjorne dogs that supported the hypothesis?

The observation in the Tjorne dogs led to the hypothesis because people say that the dogs that were humans started to change physically from wolves. Humans were behind around human's domestication. Humans started to change. The relation with Tjorne dogs observation indicates an ancient role in domestication. About many animals are killing food and humans are being kept in the wild and it is difficult to explain it. Experts say this could have been just a few thousands of years ago.

4. What is evidence to the two ways to explain physical differences between dogs and wolves. What are the major differences?

Some major differences between dogs and wolves are that dogs have smaller, more domesticated, generally, and a more tame and domesticated nature than they would have. Domesticated animals are more tame and domesticated. Dogs have floppy ears while most wolves don't. Dogs also have curled up tails while wolves don't.

5. Which evidence from dogs was, probably made and domesticated, since it would have helped domestication. The others that make humans domesticated them? What about the experiment in German dogs?

The experiment in German showed that the features that dogs have domesticated improved, they
