American Public School Librarianship Wayne A. Wiegand, 2021-10-12 The first comprehensive history of American public school librarianship Can I get a library pass Over the past 120 years millions of American K-12 public school students have asked that question Still we know little about the history of public school libraries which over the decades were pulled together and managed by hundreds of thousands of school librarians In American Public School Librarianship Wayne A. Wiegand recounts the unseen history of both school libraries and their librarians Why Wiegand asks did school librarianship turn out the way it did And what can its history tell us about limitations and opportunities in the coming decades of the twenty-first century Addressing issues of race social class gender and sexual orientation among others as they affected American public school librarianship throughout its history Wiegand explores how libraries were transformed by the Great

Depression the civil rights era Lyndon Johnson's Great Society programs and more recent legislation like No Child Left Behind Common Core and the Every Student Succeeds Act Wiegand touches on censorship the impact of school segregation on school libraries disparities in funding that fall along lines of race and class the development of school librarianship as a profession the history of organizations like the American Association for School Librarians and how emerging technologies affected school librarianship Wiegand clarifies the historical role of the school librarian as an opponent of censorship and defender of intellectual freedom He also analyzes the politics of a female dominated school library profession identifies and evaluates the profession's major players and their battles often against patriarchy and challenges the priorities of librarianship's current agendas particularly regarding the role of reading in the everyday lives of children and young adults Filling a huge void in the history of education American Public School Librarianship provides essential background information to members of the nation's school library and educational communities who are charged with supervising and managing America's 80 000 public school libraries
