Personalisation Sarah Carr, Rachel Dittrich, Social Care Institute for Excellence (Great Britain), 2008

Personalisation Sarah Carr, Social Care Institute for Excellence (Great Britain), 2011-11 Personalising Public

Services Catherine Needham, 2011 This book focuses on how personalisation the idea that public services should be tailored to the individual with budgets devolved to the service user or frontline staff evolved as a policy narrative and has mobilised wide ranging political support

Personalisation Peter Beresford, 2013-10-23 Personalisation has become the policy buzz word of the twenty first century Supporters claim it offers service users choice and services attuned to meet their specific needs moving away from one size fits all state services In this short form book part of the Critical and Radical Debates in Social Work series Peter Beresford one of Britain's foremost social work academics challenges the personalisation agenda and its consequences on service users Although critical of one size fits all services that deny service user voice Beresford argues that personalisation turns service users into consumers of services within a care market and hence reinforces the commodification of care which sees vast profits made by a small number of providers at the expense of good quality services for those who use them

Personalisation For Social Workers: Opportunities And Challenges For Frontline Practice Burton, Jenni, Toscano, Thomas, Zonouzi, Maryam, 2012-06-01 An accessible practice based introduction to personalisation which addresses the tensions challenges and opportunities of personal funding and support Personalization: Oxford

Evidence-based Practice in Social Work Ian Mathews, Karin Crawford, 2011-06-16 At a time when the credibility of social work is again being questioned this book offers a critical approach to the debate concerning the reliability and validity of the evidence research and knowledge that underpins professional social work practice It critiques the notion of evidence and

argues that knowledge is a much broader more appropriate concept to consider There is analysis of the different components and sources of this knowledge and an exploration of the often discordant interface between practice and knowledge Finally it supports the view that knowledge can be actively developed and tested by a range of people The Third Sector Richard Hull, Jane Gibbon, Oana Branzei, Helen Haugh, 2011-11-01 The Third Sector is of increasing economic and political interest but has been relatively ignored by Critical Management Studies This book presents international research from a variety of critical perspectives Each chapter is followed by a 1 000 word Commentary from a fellow contributor Social Work, Social Policy and Older People Robert Johns, 2011-01-04 It is essential for social work students to know about social policy to know why studying social policy is important in the social work degree and to understand how social policy when implemented has a real impact on the everyday life of vulnerable people This book provides plenty of examples of this impact tracing the development of welfare provision for older people right through the twentieth century leading up to an analysis of contemporary developments which students will need to know about in order to practice effectively Applying Research Evidence in Social Work Practice Martin Webber, 2017-09-16 This key textbook explores how good social work practice draws upon relevant and current research to ensure that interventions are as effective as possible Social workers are increasingly required to demonstrate their knowledge of the research and evidence that underpin the daily decisions they make and actions they take and it is therefore vital that they are not only up to date with the latest research but that they have the tools and understanding to successfully apply this to their practice Written by leading experts in the field this text book provides a step by step guide to implementing research in to every day social work practice This is essential reading for any one taking a research module on Social Work programmes at undergraduate and postgraduate level or practitioners wishing to advance their own practise and deliver the best possible service they can Developing Advanced Assessment Skills Ann Saxon, Sue Lillyman, 2011 This book will help you to develop some of the essential assessment skills that are needed to support patients with long term conditions in secondary and primary care settings You may be at the beginning of your career or you may be an experienced practitioner who is moving into long term conditions care At whatever level you may be this book will give you some guidance on how to use appropriate assessment tools and to reflect on your experience from practice Supporting patients with long term conditions is not solely the domain of nursing This book is intended to be suitable for a range of practitioners who are interested in developing their assessment skills further However some examples have been given from a nursing perspective The exercises throughout the book have been designed to encourage you to reflect on your practice and draw from the wide range of evidence that is available to support your development You can work through them at your own pace and return to chapters that you need to learn more about Effective Leadership, Management and Supervision in Health and Social Care Ivan Gray, Richard Field, Keith Brown, 2010-03-31 This book offers a comprehensive introduction to the areas of leadership management and supervision for line managers supervisors and senior practitioners

Taking a problem solving approach the book explores different aspects of leadership and management including personal effectiveness managing and leading supervision managing training and development managing resources and leading and developing a team A precise review of each project area is linked to a set of audit tools that a manager can mobilise in order to review team and personal effectiveness and develop practice

The SAGE Encyclopedia of Intellectual and Developmental Disorders Ellen Braaten, 2018-01-29 According to the CDC about one in six or about 15% of children aged 3 through 17 years have one or more developmental disabilities such as ADHD autism spectrum disorders cerebral palsy intellectual disability and learning disability Intellectual disorders are characterized by significant limitations in both intellectual functioning and in adaptive behavior which covers many everyday social and practical skills impacting learning reasoning problem solving and other cognitive processes These disabilities originate before the age of 18 and continue across the life span Developmental disorders are chronic disabilities that can be cognitive or physical or both The disabilities appear before the age of 22 and are likely to progress across the lifespan Some developmental disorders are largely physical issues such as cerebral palsy or epilepsy Some individuals may have a disorder that includes a physical and intellectual disability for example Down syndrome or fetal alcohol syndrome Intellectual and developmental disorders are significant and growing issues that are studied across a number of disciplines The SAGE Encyclopedia of Intellectual and Developmental Disorders is aimed at students interested in psychology counseling education social work psychiatry health sciences and more This encyclopedia will provide an in depth look at a wide range of disorders alongside interventions the latest research translated for an undergraduate audience historical context and assessment tools for higher level students We will take a truly interdisciplinary approach by also covering sociocultural viewpoints policy implications educational applications ethical issues and more
