Ecological Modernization in the United Arab Emirates? Helena Rietmann, 2021-07-19 In 2006 the United Arab Emirates initiated the Masdar City project which was a pre planned eco city concentrating on the development and promotion of renewable energy water and waste management sustainable building transportation and material efficiency It was the flagship project of what the government considered to be a widespread environmental reform process This study examines the Masdar City project applying the analytical framework of ecological modernization with the help of five factors which help to investigate the ongoing reform process The study finds that Masdar City is more accurately described as an outcome of the Abu Dhabi government's economic diversification strategy The project is subject to the political and economic interests of the emirate's ruling family Environmental groups operating within the emirate are connected to the government and pursue policy targets determined by the government

The International Legal Protection of Children in Street Situations Sylvia Agu, 2025-08-12 The book conducts a comprehensive analysis of codified international legal instruments and documents in their application to children in street situations employing soft law documents to elucidate treaty interpretation and supplement existing legal standards The research adopts a holistic approach correlating international legal instruments with root causes and consequences for children in street situations while systematically examining issues of intersectionality such as economic social and cultural rights civil and political rights minority rights including disability rights rights of the girl child as well as LGBTQI and migrant rights reparations impact of violence and access to essential services like health food and housing with various human rights issues including economic social cultural and civil political rights It presents the plight of children in street situations as a human rights concern offering guidance on utilising international legal sources in rights claims procedures The study also integrates sociological and political perspectives with legal and governmental policy issues examining the influence of external factors such as conditional lending and structural adjustment programmes wars and decolonisation on social policies and their consequent impact on children and families by rendering children in street situations visible as a distinct category requiring urgent attention in State policy formulation By systematically integrating international legal instruments with practical policy considerations and applications concerning children in street situations this scholarly work serves as a comprehensive legal framework for State governments their bodies and social workers and a valuable advocacy guide for interest groups including non governmental organisations proposing future directions for policy and research for addressing the rights and needs of children in street situations

Handbook of Research on the Impact of Culture in Conflict Prevention and Peacebuilding Essien, Essien, 2020-03-20 The contemporary conflict scenarios are beyond the reach of standardized approaches to conflict resolution Given the curious datum that culture is implicated in nearly every conflict in the world culture can also be an important aspect of efforts to transform destructive conflicts into more constructive social processes Yet what culture is and how culture matters in conflict scenarios is contested and regrettably unexplored The Handbook of Research on the Impact of Culture in Conflict Prevention and Peacebuilding is a critical publication that examines cultural differences in conflict resolution based on various aspects of culture such as morals traditions and laws Highlighting a wide range of topics such as criminal justice politics and technological development this book is essential for educators social scientists sociologists political leaders government officials academicians conflict resolution practitioners world peace organizations researchers and students philosophy of science and conceptual issues that make work in international relations distinctly interpretive This work both legitimizes and demonstrates the necessity of post and non positivist scholarship Interpretive approaches to the study of international relations span not only the traditional areas of security international political economy and international law and organizations but also emerging and newer areas such as gender race religion secularism and continuing issues of globalization By situating describing and analyzing major interpretive works in each of these fields the book draws out the critical research challenges that are posed by and the progress that is made by interpretive work Furthermore the book also pushes forward interpretive insights to areas that have entered the IR radar screen more recently including race and religion demonstrating how work in these areas can inform all subfields of the discipline and suggesting paths for future research

Reference & User Services Quarterly, 2007 The Political Economy of Iran Farhad Gohardani, Zahra

Tizro, 2019-03-07 This study entails a theoretical reading of the Iranian modern history and follows an interdisciplinary agenda at the intersection of philosophy psychoanalysis economics and politics and intends to offer a novel framework for the analysis of socio economic development in Iran in the modern era A brief review of Iranian modern history from the Constitutional Revolution to the Oil Nationalization Movement the 1979 Islamic Revolution and the recent Reformist and Green Movements demonstrates that Iranian people travelled full circle This historical experience of socio economic development revolving around the bitter question of Why are we backward and its manifestation in perpetual socio political instability and violence is the subject matter of this study Michel Foucault's conceived relation between the production of truth and production of wealth captures the essence of hypothesis offered in this study Foucault 1980 93 94 maintains that In the last analysis we must produce truth as we must produce wealth indeed we must produce truth in order to produce wealth in the first place Based on a hybrid methodology combining hermeneutics of understanding and hermeneutics of suspicion this monograph proposes that the failure to produce wealth has had particular roots in the failure in the production of truth and trust At the heart of the proposed theoretical model is the following formula the Iranian subject's confused preference structure culminates in the formation of unstable coalitions which in turn leads to institutional failure creating a chaotic social order and a turbulent history as experienced by the Iranian nation in the modern era As such the society oscillates between the chaotic states of socio political anarchy emanating from irreconcilable differences between and within social assemblages and their affiliated hybrid forms of regimes of truth in the springs of freedom and repressive states of order in the winters of discontent Each time after the experience of chaos the order is restored based on the emergence of a final arbiter Iranian leviathan as the evolved coping strategy for achieving conflict resolution This highly volatile truth cycle produces the experience of socio economic backwardness and violence The explanatory power of the theoretical framework offered in the study exploring the relation between the production of truth trust and wealth is demonstrated via providing historical examples from strong events of Iranian modern history The significant policy implications of the model are explored This monograph will appeal to researchers scholars graduate students policy makers and anyone interested in the Middle Eastern politics Iran development studies and political economy
