Toward a Poetics of Genesis 1-11 Daniel D. Lowery, 2013-04-15 Daniel Lowery commences this work by suggesting that history is a subjective enterprise it is controlled by those who record it The power of the present decides what is counted as history and how the rest of us are told about the past shapes our view of it and concomitantly our outlook for the future In this sense then history fundamentally shapes the future Few questions are more basic to human existence than Who am I Where did I come from What is my place in this world The earliest chapters of Genesis have oriented hearers and readers for millennia in their attempts to address these concerns And so in several respects Genesis shapes the future In this study Lowery sets out to understand more accurately ancient Near Eastern language and claims about origins specifically claims found in Gen 1 11 He uses Gen 4 17 22 as a test case representing the Hebrew tradition explaining how the world came to be civilized Lowery observes that this passage serves a function within the larger narrative of Gen 1 11 akin to other ancient Near Eastern traditions of civilized beginnings Moreover it occupies a place in the overarching narrative of beginnings corresponding to what we find elsewhere throughout the ancient world Lowery focuses mainly on Mesopotamia leaving other cultures for later study This study aims to demonstrate that much of the language of Gen 1 11 is similar in many ways to its Mesopotamian counterparts More explicitly here is an exploration of the nature of the language and terms of Gen 1 11 to ascertain what truths it communicates and how it communicates them At its core this is a study of the genre and generic claims of protohistory as found in Gen 1 11

Common Core State Standards for Grades 4-5 Michelle Manville, 2013-09-19 Common Core State Standards for Grades 4 5 Language Arts Instructional Strategies and Activities is designed to help teachers teach CORE standards using research based effective instructional strategies in combination with ready to use activities These strategies include identifying similarities and differences writing summaries and taking notes creating non linguistic representations and suggestions for homework and practice There are a variety of suggested texts as well as identified text exemplars that can easily be used with the suggested activities The activities accommodate most teaching styles and can be used by the new teacher as well as the experienced teacher with very little advanced preparation required While the activities in each chapter are listed as single suggestions they can be used individually or combined to strengthen your current units as you implement the Common Core State Standards in your daily planning and instruction Moving INTO the Classroom Stacia C Miller,Suzanne F Lindt,2017-09-06 This textbook focuses on research in movement integration and the benefits of physical activity to the child s physical cognitive emotional and social development It includes research on and suggestions for integrating movement into English language arts mathematics science and social studies for lower and upper elementary students Though the textbook is specifically aimed at elementary level teachers secondary teachers and pre service teachers can modify the activities to fit their lessons as well Hooking Students into Learning Patricia Hipwell,2018-07-20 Best selling author of the How to write what you want to say series Patricia Hipwell has completed her magnum opus which will benefit all teachers from Year 4 Year 12 This book has been written to provide teachers with ways of hooking students into learning at the start of each and every lesson It contains almost 300 ways of doing this The book is designed to be used by teachers in all curriculum areas from Year 4 upwards It contains a plethora of ideas that can be adapted to any curriculum area In the book the term relevant or subject specific content is used a great deal This is because skills are always best developed in the context of use with content that is relevant to current areas of study There is little point for example in asking students to do an activity that develops their sentence writing skills using information on Ancient Greece when they are currently studying the Black Death The symbiotic relationship between content and skills means that teachers often have to develop their own resources because this enables them to focus on the skills using relevant and current content Various referred to as anticipatory sets warm ups lesson starters or hooks the activities in this book are excellent ways to switch students on to their learning In this book the activities will be referred to as lesson starters Their purposes include moving key facts and figures from short term to long term memory activating prior knowledge about a topic where prior knowledge exists awakening interest in the topic of the lesson checking for understanding improving a variety of skills developing learning strategies improving vocabulary developing collaborative learning strategies Most of these activities are designed to take between five and ten minutes at the start of the lesson Students may take longer until they become familiar with them especially if the activities are different from current learning activities Many of the activities will work best if students work in pairs or small groups Some activities can generate noise and therefore be unsettling so teachers will need to be mindful of this when choosing a particular activity They may prefer to do the activity at the end rather than the start of a lesson In this case the purpose of the activity is to consolidate the learning of the lesson The focus of many of the activities is to increase the amount of reading and writing we require students to do Also students need to develop their vocabulary in all areas of the curriculum and many of the activities have been developed with this in mind Literature on Trial Sylwia Dominika

Chrostowska,2012-01-01 Literature on Trial traces the rise of modern literary criticism in Central and Eastern Europe during the eighteenth century S D Chrostowska juxtaposes the discourse s written forms in three linguistic cultural regions Germany Poland and Russia to show how fluid the relationship once was between the genres of criticism and those of literature An alternative history of literary criticism Literature on Trial marks a shift from earlier studies focus on aesthetic principles to an emphasis on the development of literary critical forms Chrostowska relates cultural and institutional changes in these areas to the formation of literary critical knowledge She accounts for the ways in which critical discourse organized itself formally and deemed some genres proper while eliminating others Analysing works by Lessing Goethe and Karamzin among others Literature on Trial brings a fresh theoretical perspective to the links between genre as a discursive strategy and socio political life
