

Metabolic Pathways

How does the cell coordinate and regulate its metabolism?

Why?

The organism is subject to the requirements of its environment, including nutrients. The cell must therefore coordinate its metabolism to ensure that the organism has the right mix of metabolites to support its growth and life in the cell. Metabolism is therefore subject to external signals, such as the presence of nutrients, and internal signals, such as the state of the cell. The cell must therefore coordinate its metabolism to ensure that it is able to respond to these signals.
