A Paradigm of Comparative Lexicology Floriana Popescu,2018-11-07 Intended to bridge the gap between two languages of the Indo European family this is the first comprehensive bifocal approach to lexicological aspects Through its theoretical distinctions and applications the book recommends itself to language professionals and to any reader interested in learning more about words It starts with a brief theoretical account of overlapping terms which are given crystal clear disambiguations The book then focuses on structural representations of word formations and word relationships outlining their hierarchicalness and branching directions and revealing various levels of materialization entailed by lexical productivity and frequency of occurrence Each of these hierarchies defines its related techniques and explains lexical creations adaptations or adoptions and interrelationships The approach adopted here proves English to be consistent with formative and sense related hierarchies and shows it to have reached a climax in language evolution with its status of a global language making it the standard in comparative linguistics

English in Europe Manfred Görlach, 2002-05-23 English in Europe charts the English invasion of Europe since 1945 Sixteen distinguished European scholars report on the English words and phrases that have become integral parts of their languages Each describes the effect of English on the host language and shows how the process of incorporation often modifies pronunciation and spelling and frequently transforms meaning and use The languages surveyed are Icelandic Dutch French Spanish Norwegian German Italian Romanian Polish Croatian Finnish Albanian Russian Bulgarian Hungarian and Greek The book is designed as a companion to A Dictionary of European Anglicisms but may be read as an independent work This is the first systematic survey of a phenomenon that is fascinating alarming and apparently unstoppable

Why and How the Ice Age Ended & The True History of the Pontic (White) Race Raven Alb J., 2011-11-16 A complex book which goes from explaining how climate changes based on changing of the earth's axis tilt to the formation of the Indo-European languages first words and the misunderstood part of white race history This book reveals the unknown part of Indo-European history in Asia which is very wrongly taught today The evolution of European languages is corrected based on very logical and well documented bases It is a book that requires intelligence and great curiosity as well as the ability to concentrate because many lexicons are found throughout the book Any intelligent person will have a very different understanding of earth's history and reason for climate change after reading this book The book is extremely informative in many fields and the writer expects no mercy from the people who can prove him wrong Try it

Considerations and Advancements Fatih Bayram, Maki Kubota, Sergio Miguel Pereira Soares, 2024-03-27 Over the past three decades studies investigating heritage speaker HS linguistic competencies have shown time and again that despite being L1 or 2L1 native speakers of their home language s HS outcomes display variation across a wide spectrum of differences as compared to each other other types of bilinguals as well as their monolingual peers Studies have traditionally used mostly behavioral methodologies rooted in adjacent established fields e g L1 acquisition adult L2 acquisition offering in addition to documenting and describing HS performance important insights for linguistic theory and challenges related to home minority language maintenance contact policy and more A birds eye view makes it clear that the methodologies one uses to tap into HSs linguistic knowledge areas if not more are important than the phenomena under investigation especially in light of how their unique experiences with their heritage and other languages are present across a continuum

Language in Use Loredana Frățilă, 2010-04-16 Language in Use The Case of Youth Entertainment Magazines is a collection of seven studies by several Romanian Bulgarian and Slovenian linguists on the discourse of entertainment magazines targeted at young readers and published in their respective countries The starting point of the seven studies was the idea that the discourse specific to the variety of printed media products selected for analysis was characterized by distinctive features and that these features might exert a manipulative influence on the linguistic and social behavior of the targeted readership The scholars initial aim was to validate these hypotheses and to confirm their soundness across countries However they hope that besides suggesting new perspectives on the discourse chosen for analysis and thus filling a gap in the eastern European literature in the field they may also develop admittedly within limits media literacy in young readers by equipping them with skills that could transform them from passive media consumers into responsible readers able to make informed decisions and thus be less vulnerable to the strategies of manipulation employed by those who control information

H.C. Artmann's Structuralist Imagination Marc-Oliver Schuster, 2010      Resources in Education, 1997      The Romanian Language in the Digital Age Georg Rehm, Hans Uszkoreit, 2012-07-25 This white paper is part of a series that promotes knowledge about language technology and its potential It addresses educators journalists politicians language communities and others The availability and use of language technology in Europe varies between languages Consequently the actions that are required to further support research and development of language technologies also differ for each language The required actions depend on many factors such as the complexity of a given language and the size of its community META NET a Network of Excellence funded by the European Commission has conducted an analysis of current language resources and technologies This analysis focused on the 23 official European languages as well as other important national and regional languages in Europe The results of this analysis suggest that there are many significant research gaps for each language A more detailed expert analysis and assessment of the current situation will help maximise the impact of additional research and minimize any risks META NET consists of 54 research centres from 33 countries that are working with stakeholders from commercial businesses government agencies industry research organisations software companies technology providers and European universities Together they are creating a common technology vision while developing a strategic research agenda that shows how language technology applications can address any research gaps by 2020
