Both, said John, Thompson had a character and manner unlike those of others. They studied, collected, and observed nature "open" their minds to the world around them and their observations appeared to be of a high, practical order. They collected birds and the Thompsons collected insects all the way to the very end. Thompson, the Thompsons, and the Kilduffites continued to live together, as a family, until the very end, and the general attitude of the Thompsons, Kilduffites, and the Thompsons, the family, continued to be the same.
