New Trends in Early Foreign Language Learning Maria González Davies,2012-01-17 This volume is the result of the presentations and discussions carried out at the Conference on Early Foreign Language Learning in Educational Contexts Bridging Good Practices and Research organized by the University Ramon Lull the University of Bari and LEND Lingua e Nuova Didattica in March 2010 At the Conference both teachers and researchers met to examine recent language teaching theories and practices from a transnational and intercultural perspective on the one hand and on the other to fill the gap in the field of English as a Foreign Language EFL in schools and to pave the way for a wider platform of discussion between School and University Since these two institutions have often had little contact and as there is excellent work carried out in both our attempt was to build more solid bridges across their contexts engaging school teachers in ongoing research and bringing everyday classroom practice nearer to university theoreticians in an open exchange forum so that the reflection on teaching and learning becomes relevant and rewarding for the participants involved in Early Foreign Language Learning in 21st century contexts Drawing on the main topics presented throughout the Conference this book has been structured around three main thematic areas 1 the Age Factor 2 CLIL and Content based research and practices and 3 developing intercultural competence use of the L1 and translation as mediation skills Each of these sections encompasses high quality contributions all informed by salient and recent research clear and justified theoretical standpoints and good practices which are appealing to an international audience and setting The editors sincerely hope that this volume contributes to widen the field of foreign language teaching and learning to include studies on young learners perceptions and performance At the same time they would like to highlight the decisive new focus on language learning adopted in the 21st century the inclusion of a wider vision of language acquisition one that highlights the relevance of using languages not only to communicate but more relevantly to mediate between cultures as a means to bring together the plurilingual and pluricultural citizens of our future

Vocabulary Increase and Collocation Learning Haiyan Men, 2017-09-04 This book highlights research that expands on our knowledge of second language collocation acquisition It presents original findings based on the largest collocation database to date encompassing over 8 000 collocations verb noun adjective noun and noun noun These collocations collected from a one million learner corpus were not confined to English as a foreign language EFL learners at a particular proficiency level but also included learners at three levels As such the book provides a panoramic view regarding L2 collocation acquisition not only in terms of learners acquisition of different types of collocations but in terms of the developmental patterns in L2 collocation learning One major discovery is that there is a collocation lag as learners proficiency levels rise which is associated with vocabulary increase in particular semantic domains a remarkable insight for second language acquisition researchers English teachers and EFL learners alike The findings reported shed new light on how collocations are acquired by EFL learners offering guidance on how they can best be taught In closing the book discusses pedagogical aspects that arise from considering how learners can be helped with collocation learning
