Conflicting Counsels to Confuse the Age Helen

Dunstan, 2020-08-06 Conflicting Counsels to Confuse the Age translates and analyzes thirty eight memorials to the throne and other Qing documents dealing with important issues of Chinese political economy providing thoughtful and provocative commentary Subjects covered by the texts include water control mining grain trade pawnshops brewing and commercial shipping The documents also contain detailed discussions of how the state should control wealth self interest profit hoarding and the market In translating these primary sources Helen Dunstan invites fellow specialists in Chinese studies including Qing historians to watch Qing officials and others thinking through problems of political economy and developing arguments to persuade colleagues or superiors By emphasizing their rhetorical nature and genre conventions Dunstan offers a reminder that it is improper to use the information in such texts without attention to the author s purpose and without grasping the rhetorical structure of the text as a whole As a model for close reading Conflicting Counsels aims to induce greater sensitivity to the nature of Qing records The second purpose of Conflicting Counsels is to help dispel the notion that economic liberalism is necessarily a Western modern phenomenon Many of the texts translated record areas of tension and controversy in eighteenth century approaches to a central project of Confucian paternalist administration nourishing the people yangmin

Although Dunstan attempts to present both sides fairly some materials included present the opinion that in certain vital matters it was better for the state to stand aside and leave society's own economic institutions trade in particular to handle things. While not a majority the texts that build some kind of market mechanism argument should be of greatest interest to Qing historians.

Psicología del Poder Pablo Población, 2021-09-02 Una de las grandes aportaciones de Pablo Población es sin duda su brillante descripción de las relaciones humanas miradas bajo el prisma de la psicología del poder. Nos movemos entre el Círculo del Amor y el Círculo del Poder al cual también denomina Círculo Luciferino por su analogía con el ángel caído. Nos encontramos dentro del círculo luciferino cuando nos movemos en el área del poder con una lucha interna entre nuestra necesidad de estar en un pedestal o derrumbarnos en una inseguridad profunda. De una autoexigencia por estar arriba para ser el que más es, el más fuerte, el más sabio, el más poderoso, el más bueno, el más generoso pero la realidad se encarga de frustrar nuestras expectativas y nos hace caer en un estado de autoinculpación de sentirnos inútiles y víctimas del destino. Pero curiosamente aquí seguimos siendo el que más es, el que más sufre, el más desgraciado, el más castigado por la vida, el más inútil para tratar luego de nuevo como sea de volver a trepar al pedestal del que caímos. Conoceremos el poder del que somete y también el que ejerce el que se siente víctima, así como todas las acciones: mandar, disponer, ordenar, intimar, imponer, obedecer, someterse y los sentimientos y deseos asociados: ambición, satisfacción, orgullo, prepotencia, soberbia, respeto, reverencia, sumisión, rebeldía, miedo, envidia, resignación. Así Pablo Población nos ayuda con su magnífica descripción y ejemplos a profundizar en la génesis del círculo del poder, su funcionamiento a nivel individual, familia, grupos e instituciones pero también a cómo salir de él para entrar en el área del amor, la resistencia al cambio y en definitiva todas las claves con las que podremos identificar nuestras relaciones y las de los demás.

The Routledge Handbook of Identity and the Environment in the Classical and Medieval Worlds Rebecca Futo Kennedy, Molly Jones-Lewis, 2016-01-08 The Routledge Handbook of Identity and the Environment in the Classical and Medieval Worlds explores how environment was thought to shape ethnicity and identity discussing developments in early natural philosophy and historical ethnographies. Defining environment broadly to include not only physical but also cultural environments, natural and constructed, the volume considers the multifarious ways in which environment was understood to shape the culture and physical characteristics of peoples as well as how the ancients manipulated their environments to achieve a desired identity. This diverse collection includes studies not only of the Greco-Roman world but also ancient China and the European Jewish and Arab inheritors and transmitters of classical thought. In recent years work in this subject has been confined mostly to the discussion of texts that reflect an approach to the barbarian as other. The Routledge Handbook of Identity and the Environment in the Classical and Medieval Worlds takes the discussion of ethnicity on a fresh course contextualising the concept of the barbarian within rational discourses such as cartography, medicine and mathematical sciences, an approach that allows us to more clearly discern the varied and nuanced approaches to ethnic identity which abounded in antiquity. The innovative and thought-provoking material in this volume realises new

Boulton,Kevin Jung,2012-10-05 It is often assumed that the law and religion address different spheres of human life Religion and ethics articulate complex systems of moral reasoning that concern norms deliberation of ends cultivation of disposition and transformation of moral agency Law in contrast seeks to govern human conduct through procedural justice rights and public good Doing Justice to Mercy challenges this assumption by presenting the reader with an urgent conversation between the law and religion that yields a constructive approach both theoretically and practically to the complex role of mercy in our legal process. Authored by legal practitioners, activists, and theorists in addition to theologians and ethicists, the essays collected here are informed by timeless principles and yet they could not be timelier. The trend in sentencing moves toward an increased severity, and the number of incarcerated people in the United States is at an all-time high. In the half-decade since 9/11, moreover, homeland security has established itself as a permanent fixture in our lives. In this atmosphere, the current volume seeks initially to clarify how justice and mercy intertwine in relation to a number of issues such as rehabilitation, the death penalty, domestic violence, and war crimes. Exploring the legal, philosophical, and theological grounds for mercy in our courts, the discussion then moves to the practical ways in which mercy may be implemented.

Elegant Simulations: From Simple Oscillators To Many-body Systems Julien Clinton Sprott, William Graham Hoover, Carol Griswold Hoover, 2022-12-20. A recent development is the discovery that simple systems of equations can have chaotic solutions in which small changes in initial conditions have a large effect on the outcome, rendering the corresponding experiments effectively irreproducible and unpredictable. An earlier book in this sequence, Elegant Chaos: Algebraically Simple Chaotic Flows, provided several hundred examples of such systems, nearly all of which are purely mathematical without any obvious connection with actual physical processes and with very limited discussion and analysis. In this book, we focus on a much smaller subset of such models, chosen because they simulate some common or important physical phenomenon, usually involving the motion of a limited number of point-like particles, and we discuss these models in much greater detail. As with the earlier book, the chosen models are the mathematically simplest formulations that exhibit the phenomena of interest, and thus they are what we consider elegant. Elegant models, stripped of unnecessary detail while maximizing clarity, beauty, and simplicity, occupy common ground bordering both real-world modeling and aesthetic mathematical analyses. A computational search led one of us (JCS) to the same set of differential equations previously used by the other (WGH) to connect the classical dynamics of Newton and Hamilton to macroscopic thermodynamics. This joint book displays and explores dozens of such relatively simple models, meeting the criteria of elegance, taste, and beauty in structure, style, and consequence. This book should be of interest to students and researchers who enjoy simulating and studying complex particle motions with unusual dynamical behaviors The book assumes only an elementary knowledge of calculus The systems are initial value iterated maps and ordinary differential equations but they must be solved numerically Thus for readers a formal differential equations course is not at all necessary of little value and limited use The Supreme Court Obscenity Decisions United States. Supreme Court,1973 A Twentieth-century Literature Reader Suman Gupta,David Johnson,2005 This critical Reader is the essential companion to any course in twentieth century literature Drawing upon the work of a wide range of key writers and critics the selected extracts provide a literary historical overview of the twentieth century insight into theoretical discussions around the purpose value and form of literature which dominated the century closer examination of representative texts from the period around which key critical issues might be debated Clearly conveying the excitement generated by twentieth century literary texts and by the provocative critical ideas and arguments that surrounded them this reader can be used alongside the two volumes of Debating Twentieth Century Literature or as a core text for any module on the literature of the last century Texts examined in detail include Chekhov s The Cherry Orchard Mansfield s Short Stories poetry of the 1930s Gibbon s Sunset Song Eliot s Prufrock Brecht s Galileo Woolf s Orlando Okigbo s Selected Poems du Maurier s Rebecca poetry by Ginsburg and O Hara Dick s Do Androids Dream of Electric Sheep Puig s Kiss of the Spiderwoman Beckett s Waiting for Godot Heaney s New Selected Poems 1966 1987 Gurnah s Paradise and Barker s The Ghost Road Persuasive Fictions Anna Wilson,2001 From Mary Wollstonecraft s novels to Thelma and Louise or the prose and films of Audre Lorde her book documents how the first reception of a feminist work whether in the 1790s or the 1990s generates a truly unpredictable history of personal and political responses among readers including the later critical interpretations that try to decide whether a text successfully resists the dominant values and powers of its culture
