Personal Reflection On The Self Paper:

Teaching Counselors and Therapists Karen Eriksen, Garrett McAuliffe, 2001-08-30 A guide to innovative mental health education is urgently needed Despite the hundreds of programs in existence for training students in counseling human service social work and psychology teachers in such programs have relied on an informal network of information exchange to guide their teaching practice Yet constructivist and developmental theories now point to sound innovative practices for teaching This volume delineates those practices Despite years of research on effective adult education university teaching fails in practice to incorporate research supported teaching principles Current university instruction is still dominated by the teacher as authority The teacher downloads information from the front of the class and expects students to regurgitate it in papers and on exams The authors offer a different vision of classrooms that are characterized by the themes of meaning making collaboration equality and activity in the learning environment

White Double-Consciousness Kenneth P. Sider, 2019-05-20 Despite the best intentions of teacher educators diversity awareness in teacher education typically reproduces a racial hierarchy privileging Whiteness while also educating preservice teachers against this very hierarchy The phenomenon which is effortless and easily reproduced is constructed in part through student self expression peer interaction and instructional practices This inquiry follows White undergraduate students in a state university through an academic semester in order to capture autobiographical reporting at the outset asynchronous peer mediated online discussions at the mid term and concludes with personal reflections on self perceptions of growth Using grounded theory this phenomenological study examines participants relationships to White privilege in order to improve instructional practices in the teacher education classroom The relationship between the private and public faces of participants is analogous to the micro level and macro level function of their words which is organized using a theoretical framework where critical pedagogy micro level and critical race theory macro level serve as interpretive lenses These lenses provide a wide view of participants experiences in the course and increases what is known about the instructional experiences in teacher education This inquiry suggests that the teacher education classroom is an ideal space to shift the focus from intellectualization to self actualization Teacher educators can provide opportunities where students insights help dissolve the barrier between the real world and the classroom A sense of pedagogical wholeness that includes one's self is needed in order for preservice teachers to become antiracist educators who will provide the appropriate environment and support their future students will need
