Ponomareff, 2006-01-01 This collection of essays which should appeal both to Slavists and students of comparative literature deals with twelve major twentieth century Russian poets who for varied reasons became estranged from the Soviet state Some stayed in Russia to become inner migr s others chose to go into exile in the West One less hope one more song Akhmatova s words stands both for their suffering and often their deaths but also for their humanity and poetic achievement The poets in question are Anna Akhmatova Osip Mandelshtam Vladimir Mayakovsky Alexander Blok Sergey Esenin Nikolay Gumilev Vyacheslav Ivanov Marina Tsvetaeva Vladislav Khodasevich Boris Poplavsky Boris Pasternak and Joseph Brodsky The whole collection is followed by a cultural perspective of the Russian 19th and 20th centuries I, the Poet Kathleen McCarthy, 2019-10-15 First person poetry is a familiar genre in Latin literature Propertius Catullus and Horace deployed the first person speaker in a variety of ways that either bolster or undermine the link between this figure and the poet himself In I the Poet Kathleen McCarthy offers a new approach to understanding the ubiquitous use of a first person voice in Augustan age poetry taking on several of the central debates in the field of Latin literary studies including the inheritance of the Greek tradition the shift from oral performance to written collections and the status of the poetic I voice In light of her own experience as a twenty first century reader for whom Latin poetry is meaningful across a great gulf of linguistic cultural and historical distances McCarthy positions these poets as the self conscious readers of and heirs to a long tradition of Greek poetry which prompted them to explore radical forms of communication through the poetic form Informed in part by the New Lyric Studies I the Poet will appeal not only to scholars of Latin literature but to readers across a range of literary studies who seek to understand the Roman contexts which shaped canonical poetic genres American Literary Gazette and Publishers' Circular ,1863 London Catalogue of Books... ,1851 British Books ,1908 The London catalogue of books published in Great Britain, 1816 to 1851 [compiled by T. Hodgson]. London catalogue,1851 British Museum Catalogue of printed Books ,1885 The Patience of Hope Dora Greenwell,John Greenleaf Whittier,1862 American Literary Gazette and Publishers' Circular Charles R. Education Department,1924 Catalogue Baltimore Peabody inst, libr,1883 Intratextuality and Latin Literature Stephen J. Harrison,Stavros Frangoulidis,Theodore D. Papangelis,2018-10-08 Recent years have witnessed an increased interest in classical studies in the ways meaning is generated through the medium of intertextuality namely how different texts of the same or different authors communicate and interact with each other Attention although on a lesser scale has also been paid to the manner in which meaning is produced through interaction between various parts of the same text or body of texts within the overall production of a single author namely intratextuality Taking off from the seminal volume on Intratextuality Greek and Roman Textual Relations edited by A Sharrock H Morales Oxford 2000 which largely sets the theoretical framework for such internal associations within classical texts this collective volume brings together twenty seven contributions written by an international team of experts exploring the evolution of intratextuality from Late Republic to Late Antiquity across a wide range of authors genres and historical periods Of particular interest are also the combined instances of intra and intertextual poetics as well as the way in which intratextuality in Latin literature draws on reading practices and critical methods already theorized and operative in Greek antiquity
