

Introduction

What does our immune system protect us from, and how?

Why?

2

Our body is under constant potential attack by invading foreign cells and pathogens. Our genes are well suited to this. These cells pathogens are absorbed and eliminated, unless sometimes we are prevented to body can work this way. Some keeping the system. Inhibitor cells of the immune system are also. Some for keeping the system working in order to keep the system working.

Macromolecular Structure Underlying Recognition in Innate Immunity Uttara SenGupta,Uday Kishore,Maha Ahmed Al-Mozaini,2018-07-09 Evolution of Immune System Against Diverse Antigens Jiming Sheng,2021 The immune system evolves across the host's lifetime to protect against the wide array of threats in nature While the immune system is capable of evolving and adapting to a single antigen Ag it becomes a challenging task to defend against diverse antigenic targets including mutants of the same pathogen or a wide spectrum of pathogen species First the rapid intra host diversification of highly mutable pathogens such as human immunodeficiency virus HIV or hepatitis C virus HCV creates a coevolutionary arms race with the immune system As a result viruses persist into a chronic infection in most subjects and are only cleared in rare cases In addition The vaccination trials so far to elicit broadly neutralizing antibodies bnAbs against highly mutable viruses have met with failure Second the immune system has to allocate its finite amount of adaptive immune cells against the wide spectrum of pathogens in the environment As memory cells accumulate from each pathogen encounter the host's immune repertoire gradually becomes skewed more adaptive immune cells are dedicated to the frequent pathogens while fewer are reserved for the rare pathogens The skewed repertoire in the elderly has been correlated with immune risk phenotype and a chronic inflammatory response even in the absence of pathogens but whether there is a mechanistic connection remains unknown My dissertation aims to address the following questions regarding the evolution of the immune system against diverse antigenic targets 1 What are the mechanisms and deciding factors behind the distinct coevolutionary outcomes observed in different subjects 2 What makes a viable vaccine design strategy to guide immune system evolution towards bnAbs 3 What are the side effects of a skewed immune repertoire as a result of adapting to different pathogens encountered during host's lifetime Also how can human intervention alleviate these side effects My dissertation shows that 1 different coevolutionary outcomes are decided by the timing and efficacy of successive narrow and broad antibody Ab responses which in turn are determined by the conservation level and initial diversity of Ag 2 A viable vaccine strategy to elicit bnAbs should balance suppression of strain specific B cells and preserving cross reactive B cells The corresponding optimal selection strength should increase in time as driven by the evolution of B cell cross reactivity 3 Mediated by adaptive innate feedback repeated pathogen encounters during host lifetime and resulting memory inflation may trigger a fragility in which any encounter with a novel pathogen will cause the system to irreversibly switch from health to chronic inflammation CI In addition the onset of CI strongly depends on the history of encountered pathogens the timing of onset can be delayed drastically when the same set of infections is encountered in a specific order How the Immune System Generates Diversity Mihaela Oprea,1998 Orchestration of an Immune Response to Respiratory Pathogens Andrea Sant,Steven Varga,2019 This eBook is a collection of articles from a Frontiers Research Topic Frontiers Research Topics are very popular trademarks of the Frontiers Journals Series they are collections of at least ten articles all
