Paula Vogel Michigan Modern Dramatists:

Paula Vogel Joanna Mansbridge, 2014-11-04 Paula Vogel's plays including the Pulitzer prizewinning How I Learned to Drive initiate a conversation with contemporary culture staging vexed issues like domestic violence pornography and AIDS. She does not write about these concerns but instead examines how they have become framed as issues as sensationalized topics focusing on the histories and discourses that have defined them and the bodies that bear their meanings. Mobilizing campy humor keen insight and nonlinear structure her plays defamiliarize the identities and issues that have been fixed as just the way things are. Vogel crafts collage like playworlds that are comprised of fragments of history and culture and that are simultaneously inclusive and alienating familiar and strange funny and disturbing. At the center of these playworlds are female characters negotiating with the images and discourses that circumscribe their lives and bodies. In this the first book length study of Vogel and her work Joanna Mansbridge explores how Vogel's plays speak back to the canon responding to and rewriting works by William Shakespeare Edward Albee Sam Shepard and David Mamet rearranging their plots revising their conflicts and recasting their dramatis personae. The book examines the theories shaping the playwright and her plays the production and reception of her work and the aesthetic structure of each play grounding the work in cultural materialist feminist and queer theory and theater and performance studies scholarship.

BOOK JACKET The Routledge Anthology of Women's Theatre Theory and Dramatic Criticism Catherine Burroughs,J. Ellen Gainor,2023-09-29 The Routledge Anthology of Women's Theatre Theory and Dramatic Criticism is the first wide ranging anthology of theatre theory and dramatic criticism by women writers Reproducing key primary documents contextualized by short essays the collection situates women's writing within and also reframes the field's male defined and male dominated traditions Its collection of documents demonstrates women's consistent and wide ranging engagement with writing about theatre and performance and offers a more expansive understanding of the forms and locations of such theoretical and critical writing dealing with materials that often lie outside established production and publication venues This alternative tradition of theatre writing that emerges allows contemporary readers to form new ways of conceptualizing the field bringing to the fore a long neglected vibrant intelligent deeply informed and expanded canon that generates a new era of scholarship learning and artistry The Routledge Anthology of Women's Theatrical Theory and Dramatic Criticism is an important intervention into the fields of Theatre and Performance Studies Literary Studies and Cultural History while adding new dimensions to Feminist Gender and Sexuality Studies

Critical Perspectives on Contemporary Plays by Women Penny Farfan, Lesley Ferris, 2021-07-22

This book foregrounds some of the ways in which women playwrights from across a range of contexts and working in a variety of forms and styles are illuminating the contemporary world while also contributing to its reshaping as they reflect rethink and reimagine it through their work for the stage The book is framed by a substantial introduction that sets forth the critical vision and structure of the book as a whole and an afterword that points toward emerging currents in and expansions of the contemporary field of playwriting by women on the cusp of the third decade of the twenty first century Within this frame the twenty eight chapters that form the main body of the book each focusing on a single play of critical significance together constitute a multi faceted inevitably partial yet nonetheless integral picture of the work of women playwrights since 2000 as they engage with some of the most pressing issues of our time Some of these issues include the continuing oppression of and violence against women people of color LGBTQ people and ethnic minorities the ongoing processes of decolonization the consequences of neoliberal capitalism the devastation and enduring trauma of war global migration and the refugee crisis the turn to right wing populism and the impact of climate change including environmental disaster and species extinction The book is structured into seven sections Replaying the Canon Representing Histories Staging Lives Re imagining Family Navigating Communities Articulating Intersections and New World Order s These sections group clusters of plays according to the broad critical actions they perform or in the case of the final section the new world orders that they capture through their stagings of the seeming impasse of the politically and environmentally catastrophic global present moment There are many other points of resonance among and across the plays but this seven part structure foregrounds the broader actions that drive the plays both in the Aristotelian dramaturgical sense and in the larger sense of the critical interventions that the plays creatively enact In this way the seven part structure establishes correspondences across the great diversity of dramatic material represented in the book while at the same time identifying key methods of critical approach and areas of focus that align the book s contributors across this diversity The structure of the book thus parallels what the playwrights themselves are doing but also how the contributors are approaching their work Plays featured in the book are from Canada Australia South Africa the US the UK France Argentina New Zealand Syria Brazil Italy and Austria the playwrights include Margaret Atwood Leah Purcell Ya l Farber Paula Vogel Adrienne Kennedy Suzan Lori Parks debbie tucker green Lisa Loomer H l ne Cixous Anna Deavere Smith Lola Arias Lisa Kron and Jeanine Tesori Marie Clements Quiara Alegr a Hudes Alia Bano Holly Hughes Whiti Hereaka Julia Cho Liwaa Yazji Grace Pass Dominique Morisseau Emma Dante Frances Ya Chu Cowhig Lynn Nottage Elfriede Jelinek Caryl Churchill Colleen Murphy and Lucy Kirkwood Encompassing several generations of playwrights and scholars ranging from the most senior to mid career to emerging voices the book will be essential reading for established researchers a valuable learning resource for students at all levels and a useful and accessible guide for theatre practitioners and interested theatre goers Performing Gender

Violence B. Ozieblo, N. Hernando-Real, 2012-01-02 Violence against women in plays by women has earned little mention This revolutionary collection fills that gap focusing on plays by American women dramatists written in the last thirty years that deal with different forms of gender violence Each author discusses specific manifestations of violence in carefully selected plays psychological familial war time and social injustice This book encompasses the theatrical devices used to represent violence on the stage in an age of virtual immediate reality as much as the problematics of gender violence in modern society

Arthur Miller's Century Stephen Marino, 2017-06-20 Arthur Miller was one of the major American dramatists of the twentieth century clearly ranking with other truly great American playwrights including Eugene O'Neill Tennessee Williams and Edward Albee The centennial of Miller's birth in New York City on October 17 1915 was celebrated around the world with a panoply of staged productions theatrical events media documentaries and academic conferences Miller earned his reputation during a career of more than seventy years in which he achieved critical success in the 1940s and 1950s with the dramas All My Sons Death of a Salesman The Crucible and A View from the Bridge He was also notable for his refusal to name names at his appearance before the House Un-American Activities Committee his marriage to the film actress Marilyn Monroe and his spell as president of the literary organization International PEN Arthur Miller was not only a literary giant but also one of the more significant political cultural and social figures of his time He was a man of conviction and integrity who frequently took stands popular and unpopular on the ethical issues that engaged societies throughout the world This collection includes eclectic essays from Miller scholars who provide detailed discussions of text and performance of Miller as a political and cultural figure and of his connection to other playwrights The contributions explore the trajectory of Miller's career his most famous and frequently produced works such as Death of a Salesman and The Crucible the dramas of his later career and his fiction The collection appeals to a broad American and international audience and a cross section of readers including undergraduates graduates emerging scholars drama and theatre specialists as well as theatre goers who flock to revivals of Miller's plays Women Experimenting in Theatre Kate Aughterson, Deborah Philips, 2024-11-14 This collection of essays covering a broad historical range shows that women working in theatre and drama since the time of Aphra Behn have been engaged in pushing the boundaries of conventional representation and dramaturgical convention Collectively the authors show that women have used performing spaces as a channel for both political and personal radicalism one that has demanded and celebrated experimentalism as a kind of survival in a male dominated world
