Landmark Cases in the Law of Restitution Charles Mitchell, Paul Mitchell, 2006-04-18 It is now well established that the law of unjust enrichment forms an important and distinctive part of the English law of obligations Restitutionary awards for unjust enrichment and for wrongdoing are clearly recognised for what they are But these are recent developments Before the last decade of the twentieth century the very existence of a separate law of unjust enrichment was controversial its scope and content matters of dispute In this collection of essays a group of leading scholars look back and reappraise some of the landmark cases in the law of restitution They range from the early seventeenth century to the mid twentieth century and shed new light on some classic decisions Some argue that the importance of their case has been overstated others that it has been overlooked or misconceived All persuasively invite the reader to think again about some well known authorities The book is an essential resource for anyone scholar student or practitioner with an interest in this fascinating area of the law Paul and

Pseudepigraphy Stanley E. Porter, Gregory P. Fewster, 2013-09-05 In Paul and Pseudepigraphy an international group of scholars engage open questions in the study of the Apostle Paul and those documents often deemed pseudepigraphal This volume addresses many traditional questions including those of method and the authenticity of several canonical Pauline letters but they also reflect a desire to think in new ways about persistent questions surrounding pseudepigraphy The focus on pseudepigraphy in relationship to Paul affords a unique opportunity to address this innovative inclination not readily available in studies of New Testament pseudepigraphy in general Regarding these concerns new approaches are introduced traditional evidence is reassessed and some new suggestions are offered In addition to Pauline letters treatments of related non canonical Pauline pseudepigraphs are included in discussion Sample Surveys: Inference and Analysis, 2009-09-02

Gardeners' Chronicle and Agricultural Gazette, 1869 Early Cinema and the "National" Richard Abel, Giorgio Bertellini, Rob King, 2008-12-17 Essays on how motion pictures in the first two decades of the 20th century constructed communities of nationality recommended Choice While many studies have been written on national cinemas Early Cinema and the National is the first anthology to focus on the concept of national film culture from a wide methodological spectrum of interests including not only visual and narrative forms but also international geopolitics exhibition and marketing practices and pressing linkages to national imageries The essays in this richly illustrated landmark anthology are devoted to reconsidering the nation as a framing category for writing cinema history Many of the 34 contributors show that concepts of a national identity played a role in establishing the parameters of cinema's early development from technological change to discourses of stardom from emerging genres to intertitling practices Yet as others attest national meanings could often become knotty in other contexts when concepts of nationhood were contested in relation to colonial imperial histories and regional configurations Early Cinema and the National takes stock of a formative moment in cinema history tracing the beginnings of the process whereby nations learned to imagine themselves through moving images

The London Medical Record, 1887 Beauty Matters Anri Yasuda, 2024-06-04 The notion of beauty is inherently elusive aesthetic judgments are at once subjective and felt to be universally valid In Beauty Matters Anri Yasuda demonstrates that by exploring the often conflicting yet powerful pull of aesthetic sentiments major authors of the late Meiji

1868 1912 and Taish 1912 1926 periods illuminated themes and perspectives that resonated broadly in modern Japanese society This approach presents an alternative to conventional accounts in which Japanese literature before the modernist turn of the 1920s has tended to be defined by an insular focus on subjective representation and autobiographical realism Yasuda investigates how Natsume S seki Mori Ogai Mushanok ji Saneatsu and his peers at Shirakaba magazine and Akutagawa Ry nosuke sought to identify the aesthetic properties of literature through comparisons with the visual arts They also considered the position of Japanese cultural sensibilities within the Eurocentric imperial world order Their stories featuring painters and paintings weigh the fundamental challenge of representing anything when the conditions of knowledge are in flux and their stories about cross cultural encounters display both hope and ambivalence about the prospect of cosmopolitanism Yasuda shows how thinking about beauty and art enabled these authors to surpass purely literary concerns By tracing the wide reaching significance of aesthetic affect in literary thought Beauty Matters destabilizes received conceptions of literature s parameters and affirms literature s continued potential to intervene in cultural discourses in Japan and beyond
