

2.0 TITLE & TEXT PAGE FORMAT

■ The title page is condensed in final manuscripts. Since the paper is to be read rather than typeset the title page should carry as much information about the content as possible. The title and author share the page; the abstract and author note for conference papers. The date is added to a published article by the journal; here it must be added by the author. Keywords to aid online search retrieval are now added after the abstract.

Page Headers. Copy manuscripts carry a running head on every page. This becomes the page header in college papers. The running head for publication is an abbreviated short title header--no more than 50 characters--that will be placed at the top of each page when the paper is published in a journal. It is omitted from the title page of college papers where it is redundant, and set in heading caps to conform with other headings in the paper (it is placed in full caps when writing for publication).

2.1 TITLE PAGE

■ The old APA Manual (2001) noted: "If the paper is to receive masked review, also place the author note on the title page, following the bylines and affiliations. The journal editor will remove the title page before sending the manuscript out to reviewers" (p. 296). For this reason, the abstract is placed on a separate page. Since final manuscripts are not intended for anonymous review, it is sensible to add the abstract to the title page along with the author note as a convenience to the reader.

The Title Is Centered in a Bold Font in Heading Caps and Single-Spaced on the Page Author M. Lescaine University Affiliation [Course - Date] 1	Centered Title in the Style of the American Psychologist Abel Scribe Department of Arcane Studies Transcendental College April 1, 2009 Abstract An abstract is not too common in student papers, but required when submitting any paper for publication in an American Psychological Association (APA) journal. This is a good format for students, especially graduate students, to emulate in their work. An abstract is a brief concise description of the research: what you were looking for, why, how you went about it, and what you found. Absent an abstract, proportion the title and author block on the page. Abstracts to articles published in APA journals are set in italics, a feature not specified in the APA Manual, though perhaps appropriate for conference papers. Keywords: APA style, page format [Acknowledgement] The author wishes to thank Abby Scribe for her brilliant insights. Funding was provided by the Ganja Pipeline Project.
