Barnhart, 2021-06-15 How do you get students to engage in a historical episode or era How do you bring the immediacy and contingency of history to life Michael A Barnhart shares the secret to his award winning success in the classroom with Can You Beat Churchill which encourages role playing for immersive teaching and learning Combating the declining enrollment in humanities classes this innovative approach reminds us how critical learning skills are transmitted to students by reactivating their curiosity and problem solving abilities Barnhart provides advice and procedures both for the use of off the shelf commercial simulations and for the instructor who wishes to custom design a simulation from scratch These reenactments allow students to step into the past requiring them to think and act in ways historical figures might have Students must make crucial or dramatic decisions though these decisions need not align with the historical record In doing so they learn through action and strategic consideration the impact of real individuals and groups of people on the course of history There is a quiet revolution underway in how history is taught to undergraduates Can You Beat Churchill hopes to make it a noisy one

Naval Battle Of Trafalgar, 1805 André Geraque Kiffer, 2021-04-14 Napoleon's naval plan for 1805 was for the French fleet of the Mediterranean and part of the Spanish fleet to break the British blockade and meet in the Caribbean They would then return assist the fleet in Brest to get out of the blockade and together about 50 ships of the line would guarantee a safe passage for the French invasion fleet to Britain Before the battle French Admiral Villeneuve himself had expressed his conviction that Nelson would use some kind of unorthodox attack speculating that he was going to go straight against his line Imagining something different for the British maneuver is difficult considering the fame obtained by Nelson Therefore we will try to test whether it would have been possible for Villeneuve together with Gravina to reverse the historic result making it more worthy to include his name in the Arc de Triomphe Daily Report, Foreign Radio Broadcasts United States.
