

Mauritius at the Crossroad

INTRODUCTION

Madam Speaker, at the outset I wish to place on record that I have had very fruitful meetings with various stakeholders during the recent Budget consultation exercise. I extend my thanks to all those who have participated, for their views and suggestions. Indeed, their contribution has been most helpful in today's Budget presentation.

2. The priorities and concerns voiced out by the stakeholders reflect very much the sentiments that have led to our crushing victory in the last election. The electorate gave us a clear mandate to clean up the mess and give our country a fresh start. Vox Populi Vox Dei.
3. In setting things right, it is essential that we have a clear vision of the future we want for our nation. It will not be enough to plan for the creation of greater national wealth. We also need to be concerned with better sharing. If we believe, as we should, that as a nation we are one, then we should put the principle of sharing at the very heart of our policies. A proper policy of national sharing is also crucial for maintaining social peace, a sine qua non condition for sustained economic progress. Therefore, greater sharing will underscore all the main policy decisions in this Budget.
4. Madam Speaker, before coming to the objectives of the Budget and to our policies for attaining those objectives, I wish first to explain the rationale behind the change in the budgeting approach - from a Programme Based Budgeting to Performance Based Budgeting. There was a consensus that the Programme Based Budgeting was bulky and too complicated for legislative purposes and for the public. It made the appropriation process tedious and very often opaque. We are shifting to a more transparent, and simpler to understand Budgeting process.
