

Biology 12 - The Digestive System - Chapter Notes

In a nutshell...

- The body uses a variety of small molecules (amino acids, fatty acids, glucose) for its metabolic needs. Food is mechanically and chemically broken down into these molecules during digestion, after which they can be taken up by body cells through the separate process of absorption.
- Food travels in a one-way path from mouth to esophagus to stomach to small intestine to large intestine to anus.
- Organs and structures in the digestive system are specialized for specific functions in digestion.
- Digestive enzymes are specific hydrolytic enzymes that have a preferred temperature and pH.
- Proper nutrition is necessary to health.
- DIGESTION: the mechanical and chemical breaking down of ingested food into particles, then into molecules small enough to move through epithelial cells and into the internal environment.
- ABSORPTION: the passage of digested nutrients from the gut lumen into the blood or lymph, which distributes them through the body.
